Ernest T. Weir, Pioneer Steel Executive, Dies

Industrialist Got His Start in Monessen; Suffers Heart Ailment

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Ernest T. Weir, 81, founder of the nation's fifth largest steel company, and who got his early start in the steel industry in Monessen, died today in the Pennsylvania Hospital of a heart ailment.

Weir, whose long career had earned him a place as one of steel's "elder statesmen," retired six weeks ago as board chairman and chief executive officer of National Steel Corp., which he had built up from an old West Virginia tin plate mill into an industrial giant.

The Pittsburgh industrialist, who would have been 82 next August 1, had suffered a heart attack in mid January and his death was the result of complications. When he announced his retirement to stockholders last May, he was elected "honorary founder-chairman" of the firm.

On his recommendation the directors named the company president, Thomas E Millsop, the chief executive officer but postponed the election of a board chairman.

Weir had told the directors he would recommend the election of an "outstanding man" as chairman and it is generally believed his choice was Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey, who has announced his intention to resign from President Eisenhower's cabinet.

One-Time Wonder Boy

Weir is survived by his wife, Mary Hayward Weir, of Pittsburgh and their son, David Mason Weir, and three children by a former marriage, Henry Kline Weir, Napa, Calif, Ernest Tener Weir Jr., Evanston, Ill, and Mrs Clifton Coleman Carter, Naples, Fla.

Weir entered the hospital in Philadelphia last week.

A one-time boy wonder who rose to become one of the steel industry's elder statesmen, Weir was known in the industry as the "lone wolf" because of his two-fisted independence. His thinking frequently brought him to odds with others in the business.

As chairman of the board of National Steel, he built a steel empire with the fifth largest production of the industry. The firm's properties include Weirton Steel Company, Great Lakes Steel Corporation, Hanna Iron Ore Company, of Cleveland, and a fleet of Great Lakes ore boats.

Faces Responsibility Early

Weir learned the burden of responsibility early when his father died and he was forced to go to work at the age of 15 to support the family. He recalled that in his first job, with Braddock Wire Company, he did everything in the office "nobody else wanted to do."

At 28, he was appointed manager of the American Tin Plate Company plant at Monessen, and came into association with the firm's Pittsburgh district manager, J. R. Phillips. Together, they planned to acquire their own steel company.

With financial backing obtained in Pittsburgh, they bought the Jackson Sheet and Tin Plate Com-

Brewster Is Found Guilty of Contempt

WASHINGTON (UP)—Federal Judge John J. Sirica today convicted Teamsters Union Vice President Frank W. Brewster of contempt of Congress.

The Seattle union official faces a possible maximum sentence of $1,000 fine and one year in jail. Sentence was deferred pending completion of a routine probation report.

Steelworkers to Get Another Boost Monday

The increase in the cost of living index as reported yesterday by the Bureau of Labor Statistics assured the nearly 9,000 members of the United Steelworkers in the Monessen and Allenport plants of Pittsburgh Steel Co. an additional four cents-an-hour wage increase July 1.

The increase results from a cost-of-living clause in the USW-steel industry contracts signed last summer. Nation-wide, about 700,000 workers will receive the increase.

The USW said steelworkers covered by the pacts signed following the industry-wide strike last year will receive wage and fringe benefits totaling about 16.5 cents-an-hour effective Monday.

That wage package figure includes about 9.1 cents in direct wage increases under the contracts. 3 4 cents in fringe benefits and the 4 cents cost of living boost.

Headless Body Identified as Commander Crabb

CHICHESTER, England (UP)—A coroner ruled today that a headless, handless body found floating in the harbor here was that of Cmdr. Lionel (Buster) Crabb, the British frogman who vanished last year while apparently checking a Soviet cruiser

Crabb, a tough 46-year-old war hero, was last seen alive in Portsmouth in April, 1956, during the visit of the Russian warships that brought Soviet leaders Nikita Khrushchev and Nikolai Bulganin on a state visit to Britain

The body was found floating in Chichester harbor on June 9, almost 14 months later.

Coroner G. F. L. Bridgman, after hearing evidence in the courthouse of this quiet Sussex town, said:

"I am quite sure that the remains found in Chichester harbor June 9 were those of Commander Crabb."

Teacher Contracts Discussed

The Monessen School Board last night withheld action on a recommendation by Supt. Joseph Pallone that 16 substitute teachers be issued temporary professional employe contracts.

In his recommendation, Dr. Pallone asked that teachers with degrees receive a contract at the beginning annual salary of $3,400 and that teachers without degrees be given a contract at a beginning annual salary of $3,200.

The recommendation further stated that upon completion of a degree, the teacher will receive an additional $200 above the regular increment.

The four members of the board present, Dr. Joseph M. Dudas, Alexander Kachmarik, Nicholas Cullen and John Kossar, decided to withhold a decision and tabled the recommendation until the next meeting on July 9.

Weiss Suggestion

One of the reason's for postponing the decision was because of a suggestion by David H. Weiss, school solicitor, that some provision be made in the contract for non-degree teachers that they signify their intentions of working toward a degree. He said that because of the nearness of California State Teachers College it would be "a simple matter for non-degree teachers to get at least six credits a year toward a degree."

Dr. Dudas, too, was of the opinion that non-degree teachers should work toward a degree and "thereby raise our teaching standards."

Dr. Pallone said:

"Naturally, I'd like to see all our teachers have degrees — master's degrees at that. However, that is not my responsibility. All the state requires is that a person have a teaching certificate in order to teach. It is up to the individual himself to work for a degree."

The 16 teachers — seven with degrees and nine without — have been teaching without contracts Although referred to as "substitute teachers" they have not been "substituting for anyone," Dr. Pallone said.

'Should Have Contracts'

"They have been working as full-time instructors and should have contracts," the superintendent added.

Teachers working without a contract in the Monessen School District receive the annual base pay. They do not receive the annual increments given to teachers with contracts.

Monessen is one of the "very few" districts that does not grant contracts to married women teachers, Dr. Pallone said.

Last night the superintendent recommended that the following teachers with degrees be given contracts: Mrs. Helen Dolan, Mrs. Rose Kress, Mrs. Alberta Stima, Mrs. Augustine Behrendt, Mrs. Elizabeth Jenion, Mrs. Ena Labeka and Mrs. Fern Shire.

And those without degrees: Mrs

'LARGEST VACATION CHECKS CASHED' — Workers from the Monessen plant of Pittsburgh Steel Co. streamed into the Monessen branch of Mellon Bank this morning to cash regular two-week pay checks and annual vacation checks. A total of $2,159,622 was distributed to local employes today. $1,167,152 in regular wages and $1,296,930 in vacation money. The plant also distributed $862,692 in vacation pay to Alleport workers. The men above waited for the bank to open this morning. The two pays are resulting in Monessen stores doing their biggest business since Christmas as shoppers took advantage of "Monessen Days", an annual sales event.

Renews Appeals To Hold Line in Inflation Fight

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower said today he vigorously opposes price and wage controls as a means of combating inflationary pressures.

Eisenhower renewed an appeal to business and labor leaders to show extreme restraint in price and wage increases.

He told his news conference that corporation directors should put price increases into effect only if they are absolutely necessary.

Labor leaders, he said, should restrict their demands for wage increases to corresponding increases in the productivity of individual workers or to cases where workers are suffering extreme hardships as to their pay.

The President said that if management and labor do not show such statesmanship then we would make come true a recent prediction of Communist Boss Nikita Khrushchev.

The President apparently referred to Khrushchev's prediction and recent televised interview that the United States would eventually become a socialistic country.

Khrushchev No Friend

Without identifying Khrushchev by name, the President said the Communist chief is certainly not any friend of ours. He said he himself was not going to take any part in turning their country socialistic. He said wage and price controls would be a step in that direction.

In other news conference highlights, Eisenhower:

—Said there are not any plans now for a reduction of U.S. military forces abroad at any place other than Japan.

—Said there also are not any plans to ask Congress to change the atomic energy law to permit giving Britain nuclear weapons.

—Said leading atomic scientists have told him that with four or five more years of testing they are confident they can produce a hydrogen bomb absolutely clean of radioactive fallout. But he said the administration will not go back on its offer to suspend tests of nuclear weapons as a first step toward disarmament. He also said that scientists want to continue the tests necessary to get the most out of nuclear energy for peaceful purposes.

Raise Eyebrows

—Said that one section in the report of a special commission on government employe security caused him to raise his eyebrows The recommendation called for transfer of the visa responsibilities from the State Department to the Justice Department, he said.

—Defended the Supreme Court as a great stabilizing influence and an essential part of the U S system of government. He conceded, however, that there were some parts of recent decisions on constitutional rights of individuals which, he said, each of us has very great trouble in understanding.

—Repeated his conviction that there would be no victor in a global war. He said he thinks so much about it that he finds himself repeating it almost in his sleep He made this statement in answer to a question about whether he believes the Russians could

Miners Begin Vacation Friday; Pit to Close

Friday begins the annual two-week vacation period for miners in the district's bituminous coal fields.

The start of the vacation period will have a sad note, however, with the announcement that the U. S. Steel Corp. will close down its Frick District Palmer mine for good after the final shift quits at midnight Thursday.

The mine, now employing about 250 workers, opened in 1908 and since has produced over 16 million tons of high-grade metallurgical coal for civilian and defense use.

Complete exhaustion of the mineable coal is the reason for the shutdown, the corporation announced.

It was also reported that a special meeting of Robena Local 6321, United Mineworkers of America, has been called for 1 p. m. This will mean a pre-vacation shutdown of all threes hifts tomorrow at the large mine. The reason for the session was not made known.

During the vacation period, miners with at least a year's standing will draw $180 for the 14 days. Day and maintenance men remaining at work during the vacation period will receive vacation pay and equal time off later.

Armed Thug Is Sought in Two Area Holdups

State police at Belle Vernon today continued to look for the youthful armed Negro who held up a Brownsville area restaurant Monday and escaped with $150, it was reported today.

The thug fleeced the Chuck Wagon Restaurant on Rt. 40, near West Brownsville, after entering about 5 a. m. and holding a gun on three employes.

The thief was described as about 18 or 19 years old, about 5 feet, 10 inches tall, of thin build and wearing a gray cap and khaki pants.

Willam Kovach, Centerville Borough police officer who is assisting in the investigation, said the description of the thug closely matches that of one of the two Negroes sought for the holdup of Vestaburg Tavern.

Man Injured in District Accident

Willard Hough, 29, of 1207 Chess St, Monongahela, is in Charleroi-Monessen Hospital today suffering from injuries received about 10 o'clock last night when his car went over an embankment on Elco Hill near Coal Center, it was reported.

Hough suffered lacerations of the chin and lower lip. He is in "fair" condition, the hospital reported.

Five Miners Trapped Near Steubenville

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (UP)—A cave-in trapped five miners in an underground passageway of a Powhatan Mining Co. coal mine today at nearby Bloomingdale.

A company spokesman said a rockfall almost completely sealed a passageway into the small underground operation of the strip mining firm. The spokesman said chance of reaching the men appeared good and air was being pumped in through a second entrance.

Mine rescue equipment was rushed to the scene from several locations.

The Ohio state highway patrol said it was understood the men had tunnelled back 250 feet into a hillside and were trapped behind 50 feet of dirt.

New Operation

The fall occurred in the Powhatan firm's Betsy Mine, a comparatively new operation employing about 30 or 35 men. It was opened last year in conjuncton with a strip mining operation in the area.

Three other miners working in the same crew with the trapped men ran safely from the danger area when the roof began to cave in.

Mine Foreman Floyd Bernhardt, Cadiz, Ohio, one of those who escaped, said that after he and the others got out, he looked back and could see the lights of the five men through a small opening

The trapped men were identified as Kenneth Hamilton, of Adena, Joseph Supinski, a miner named Martin, Frank Horvath of Smithfield, and Fred Fabie of Harrisville.

The men who escaped with Bernhardt were Charles Herron of Hopedale and Donald Davis of Cadiz.

The U.S. Bureau of Mines sent men to the mine from its subdistrict office at St. Clairsville, Ohio.

N. Y. Council President Blasts Baseball League

WASHINGTON (UP)—The President of the New York City Council charged today the National League acted "arrogantly and callously" when it authorized the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants to move to the West Coast.

Council President Abe Stark also said the proposed shifts amounted to a "shocking spectacle of organized, officially sanctioned piracy" by the mayors of Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Stark told a House judiciary subcommittee which is holding hearings on professional sports anti-trust legislation that the National League took a "public-be-damned" attitude.

Stark charged that there is an "unholy alliance between the baseball barons and the pay television forces" involved in the proposed shifts, which he said the subcommittee should investigate.

He noted reports that the Dogers were negotiating with a pay-as-you-see TV firm, in connection with their proposed move to Los Angeles.

He said there is a "monopoly in the making, a monopoly which plots behind the scenes and that is the corrupting alliance between baseball and pay television."

Rep. Patrick J. Hillings (R-Calif.) spoke in favor of his bill which would place a five year maximum on the operation of baseball's reserve clause. This clause binds a player to a single team which "owns" him.

Blood Bath Reported Big In Red China

TOKYO (UP)—Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai said today one out of every six persons accused of "counter revolutionary" acuvities by the Peiping government had been executed.

Chou did not mention the number actually executed but he left no doubt it was one of the largest blood baths in history. Western sources have placed the number of executions in the millions.

Chinese Communist leader Mao Tze-tung was quoted recently in Warsaw reports as admitting that more than 800,000 died.

Chou said the overwhelming majority of those sentenced to die received their sentences between "the time of liberation (1949) and 1952 He said "these sentences were absolutely necessary at the time"

Chou also disclosed that Red China had been hit during the past year with the "worst natural calamities" in several decades.

His admission lent weight to reports of trouble within Red China, climaxed recently by Communist leader Mao Tze-tung's decision to take a softer line toward critics of the regime.

Nickerson in Witness Parade

HUNTSVILLE, Ala (UP) — Dr Ernst Stuhlinger, a former rocket expert for Hitler, testified behind closed doors today to support a defense stand that Col John C. Nickerson served the Army's best interests when he disclosed secret data about a missile flight.

Stuhlinger, now a naturalized American who is working on the U.S. missile program here at Redstone Arsenal, was recalled as one of 14 defense witnesses in the anti-climax stages of the celebrated court-martial of Nickerson. The 41-year-old officer confessed Tuesday to being careless with American missile and rocket data. The Army dropped charges of espionage against Nickerson.

Presbytery Dissolves Relationship Of Rehoboth Church and Pastor

The Redstone Presbytery yesterday voted "that the pastoral relationship between Mr. J. Nelson Jackaway and the Rehoboth Presbyterian Church (Rostraver Twp) be dissolved as of Oct. 31, 1957."

The action was taken at a Presbytery meeting in Long Run Church near Irwin following a report by a special commission which has been investigating "a situation of unrest within the church."

According to the commission, the investigation was requested by members of the Rehoboth session on Jan. 21 following a sermon by the Rev. Mr. Jackaway in which he charged that political elements were agitating for his removal because of his activities in "Operation: Crusade" — a racket busting movement of district ministers.

The Commission yesterday recommended that the pastoral relationship be dissolved as of July 1, 1957 and that the Rehoboth manse be vacated by Aug. 1. However, the Presbytery amended those recommendations to take effect Oct. 31.

The Rev. Mr. Jackaway said today that he had no comment on the report in compliance with a decision by the Presbytery that all publicity should come from the commission secretary.

The Rev. Mr. Jackaway

However, the Rehoboth pastor said he has ten days to consider an appeal of the Presbytery decision to the Pennsylvania Synod, the next highest church body.

The Rev. Mr. Jackaway added that he is giving "serious thought" to such an appeal, which he said could be acted upon even after he has left Rehoboth.

In presenting its case, the special commission pointed to an earlier report made on March 28, at which time it was given authority to make further recommendations "should the situation within Rehoboth Church. . . not improve within a reasonable time."

The earlier report had stated: "While the Rev. Mr. Jackaway has shown a lack of discretion at times ffom the pulpit and has been somewhat tactless in his dealings with some of the members of his congregation, we find no malice in him."

That report avoided any mention of "Operation: Crusade."

However, the Commission had this to say in yesterday's statement:

"While Operation: Crusade has received wide publicity concerning the situation at the Rehoboth

District Chorine Wins Top Prize On TV Quiz Show

NEW YORK (UP) — Showgirl Barbara Hall hit the jackpot Tuesday night on "The $64,000 Question" and won the chance to try for prizes up to $256,000.

The 24-year-old Pittsburgh, chorine answered a 13-part question about Shakespeare to win $64,000 on the CBS television quiz show.

Miss Hall was aided by an expert she had chosen. He was Dr. Austin Wright, professor of English literature at Miss Hall's alma mater, Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh.

The showgirl, who appeared in the recently closed "Ziegfeld Follies" on Broadway, was required to complete an acrostic printed on a plexiglass window of her isolation booth, from clues to words which began with each of the letters of "Shakespeare."

Miss Hall returns next week for the first of three questions leading to the $128,000 plateau. If successful, she could win as much as $256,000 if she chose to answer further questions.

'Old' Turtle Is Found on Farm

CANONSBURG, Pa. (UP)—Two men searching for ginseng herb roots on a farm near here Tuesday found a turtle with the inscription, "H.J.N. 1900" carved in its shell.

Edward Coen, of Hendersonville, and Walter Berry, of Cecil, connected the initials with Harvey J. Nantker, former owner of the farm.

They contacted Nantker at his home in Houston, Pa., and he recalled carving the inscription 57 years ago.

Coen said he would keep the turtle, measuring eight by four inches, on display for a few days and then return it to the farm, now owned by Sherman Richardson, of Canonsburg RD 2.

$1,735 Is Taken from 41 Pinball Machines

Despite reports to the contrary during this period of inflation, the nickel still is a popular coin.

This was proven when the 41 pinball machines seized in Fayette County raids last week coughed up a total of $1,735.75 in nickels — or 34,715 five-cent pieces — in an accounting of their contents yesterday.

The figures were supplied by Edgar E. Lyon, court stenographer for President Judge W. Russell Carr, who watched the counting for the court. Lyon said the bounty wasn't as fat in all cases, however — one machine contained only a single dime.

It was understood the money will be held until disposition of the machines has been decided. If they are eventually destroyed as gambling devices, as the commonwealth seeks, the cash will likely go to the county.

Authorities said last night there is a possibility that State Dept. of Justice petitions asking the machines be declared gambling devices, may be filed today

Following this, Judge Carr will issue a ruling asking cause to be shown why the machines should not be destroyed. Owners of the devices will be given time to file answers to the rule, then a hearing will be set to make a court decision.

Alleged owners present at the counting yesterday included Ralph Genovese and Ralph Carolla, Uniontown; Victor Ruggieri, of the Vic and Al Amusement Co., Connellsville; Gilbert Joseph, Brownsville Coin Machine Co.; Harry Laskey, Uniontown, Laskey Bros. Amusement Co.; and several apparently minor operators from Connellsville, Masontown, and Brownsville areas.

The devices were seized last Thursday when about 45 officers

Payroll Records Are Demanded In Pike Trial

HARRISBURG (UP)—Prosecuting attorneys in the Pennsylvania Turnpike conspiracy trial were expected today to demand the defense produce payroll records of the Manu-Mine Research and De- [illegible] Corp., which the com- [illegible] refused to release despite a court order.

Deputy Attorney General Vincent G. Panati said a subpena served on Clyde J. Siegfried, chief accountant for the firm, directed him to appear in court today with certain records of the firm, but that Siegfried said the records were in the possession of Manu-Mine president Charles W. Stickler Jr., one of the nine defendants on trial.

Stickler's attorney, Earl V. Compton, said the records were in his office and would be produced only when the Commonwealth shows that they are "relevant to the case."

Compton, chief of the 13-man defense legal battery, indicated some of the records sought by the Commonwealth are Stickler's personal files, rather than records of the firm, and thus not subject to the court order.

Records Key Factor

The records appear to be a key factor in the prosecution's attempt to prove that Manu-Mine made a profit of 100 per cent on a Turnpike Commission contract for the drilling of holes in connection with mine-filling work under the Northeastern Extension.

Stickler and Manu-Mine vice president Clayton A. Landsidle are charged with obtaining the contract by false pretenses, as well as with conspiring with the seven other defendants, including five top commission officials to defraud the commission of $19,500,000 through the contract.

Siegfried also testified last fall at the special grand jury investigation of Manu-Mine's operations which resulted in the indictment of the nine.

Panati reported the accountant was "reluctant" to testify against Manu-Mine, with whom he still is employed. Siegfried's "reluctance" apparently was the cause of a side-bar dispute when a defense attorney accused Panati of improper conduct Tuesday when he interviewed the witness prior to his appearance in court.

Panati, however, was upheld by the court when he said during a private conference with Judge Harry L. Kreider that he interviewed the witness only to "review and organize his testimony."

Church, we did not feel that the pastor's activities in it or the forces opposing it had anything to do with the difficulties in the church."

The report added:

"As far as we could determine, any charges made or inferred concerning any members of the church and their partnership with the 'corrupt politicians in Westmoreland County to oust him from his pastorate because of his activities in Operation: Crusade' were not grounded in fact."

According to the commission, a letter was presented to the Presbytery secretary on June 12, signed by the Rehoboth pastor and 18 of the 21 church officers, in which it was suggested that "it appears wise soon to dissolve the present pastoral relationship, or at least by Oct. 31, 1957."

The commission stated that the letter "did not guarantee any action on the part of the pastor and as a legal document had no worth."

In view of that, the Commission recommended that the pastoral relationship be dissolved at the Rehoboth and Sewickley churches, both served by the Rev. Mr. Jackaway, on July 1.

It was further recommended that the Rehoboth manse be vacated on Aug. 1 and that the Rev. Mr. Jackaway's salary be continued through 1957 or until he obtained other employment.

Those recommendations were amended so that the pastoral relationship will be dissolved as of Oct. 31. The Rehoboth manse is to be vacated on the same date.

The recommendation concerning the Rev. Mr. Jackaway's salary was deleted.

The vote on the amendments was by a standing count. It was estimated that the Presbytery approved them by "about" 35 to 9.

The amended report was then approved by a "strong" voice vote, according to the commission secretary, the Rev. Joseph E. Heckel.

Before considering the report, the Presbytery permitted the Rev. Mr. Jackaway to present his side of the case.

It was reported that over two hours of the Presbytery meeting were devoted to the Rehoboth situation. By the time the vote was taken, however, many of the delegates were not present.

Redstone Presbytery consists of about 60 Presbyterian churches in the area. In Presbytery meetings each church is represented by its minister and one ruling elder.

Here is the complete text of the recommendations as amended:

"1. That the pastoral relationship between Mr. J. Nelson Jackaway and the Rehoboth Presbyterian Church be dissolved as of Oct. 31, 1957.

"2. That the pastoral relationship between Mr. J. Nelson Jackaway and the Sewickley Presbyterian Church be dissolved as of Oct. 31, 1957.

"3. That the Rehoboth Manse be vacated by Oct. 31, 1957.

"4. That the Presbytery of Redstone concur with the commission in the following:

A. That the Church of Jesus Christ has a responsibility in the field of Social Education and Action. We commend both Mr. Jackaway and the Church for their interest and activity in this area. But we state clearly that neither Operation Crusade nor opposition to Operation Crusade is the cause of the disturbance we are investigating.

B. That we would urge the congregation to continue in Christian fellowship, recognizing their obligation to God, their Church, their community, and their Presbytery. We would encourage all the members of the church to have a more active interest in all the activities of the Church, since some claim to be unaware that "anything is wrong".

"6. That the Commission continue its present power and authority."

The commission report was signed by: Donald C. Smith, Chairman; Joseph E. Heckel, Secretary; Oliver R. Stang; Francis G. Stewart; Robert L. George; Thomas H. Hudson, Jr.; Clifton M. Puff.

Rarick Claims Group Can't Take McDonald

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The leader of a dissident faction in the United Steelworkers said today his group "cannot conscientiously accept" the leadership of USW President David J. McDonald because of "unexplained irregularities" in his election last February.

Donald C. Rarick, McKeesport millhand who unsuccessfully ran against McDonald as candidate of the Dues Protest Committee, accused McDonald and his international officers of "shameful conduct" in an attempt to use the 1,200,000-member union for their "own selfish purposes."

"In recognition of the many unexplained irregularities surrounding the election of the international officers in the February, 1957, election, the Dues Protest Committee cannot conscientiously accept the leadership of David McDonald as the duly elected president of the United Steelworkers of America," Rarick said in a statement to "labor editors."

The official count of the ballots in the USW election showed McDonald winning his second term with 404,000 votes to Rarick's 223,000.

Rarick, who has appealed to the Senate Rackets Committee, for a full-scale investigation of the steel union, listed five demands of his group. They included:

—A local by local account of the election tally in the official union paper, "Steel Labor."

—A detailed account of the campaign expenses of the candidates for international office.

—Prosecution of "those officers who would hinder and obstruct attempts by the membership to obtain their rights and privileges as set forth in the constitution."

—Immediate reduction of dues from $5 a month to the $3 a month which prevailed before the international convention voted a boost last fall.

—Equal space in Steel Labor to "discuss problems and issues vital to the welfare of this union and its membership."

Rarick also said the DPC "strongly denounces the suggestion in the Chicago meeting of the international that the staff representatives take strong measures against the people who are demanding democracy in our international affairs."

At the Chicago meeting last week, McDonald denounced the dissident group and called on members of his staff to back their pledges of loyalty with deeds.

cooperated in raids on Uniontown, Connellsville and Brownsville business places in a search for gambling devices.

According to police, no arrests were made and the operation is a "test case" directed against the machines themselves.

Value of the confiscated devices, all of the style in which the player attempts to light up numbers in a bingo-type series, was estimated at about $35,000.

Counting of the contents began about 1:30 p. m. yesterday and was finished about 6:30. The machines are being stored at the state police barracks near Uniontown.

Ballplayer Hurt In Sandlot Game

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Alvin Winkelvoss, 21, hit on the head while batting in a sandlot baseball game at Port Vue, remained unconscious in Mercy Hospital today. His condition was listed as "critical."

Winkelvoss, of White Oak, was playing for the Port Vue team against Manning - Spelman in a McKeesport Daily News Sandlot League game. Police said Winkelvoss was hit on the left side of the head by a pitch thrown by Walter Imhoff, of Carrick.

In other business, two new elementary teachers were hired, Marilyn Pivarnik and Mrs. Mary McKosky, both of Monessen. The board aslo hired Steve Jacus as a full-time custodian.

The following applications were received for positions in the district:

David Kipp, of California, secondary general science and related subjects; Joseph Walker, Jr., of Belle Vernon, music teacher; Dennis Livi, of Fayette City, secondary history and civics; Mrs. Louise Mevrogeorge, of Monessen, janitress; Mary M. Story, of Webster, janitress, and Vincent Hawe, of Charleroi, mathematics and industrial arts in the high school. The applications were filed.

The resignation of Robert S. Cina as a teacher was accepted.

The board authorized the advertising of bids for the following: asphalt paving for Ben Franklin and senior high school; fencing for Vocational School; cleaning, heating and ventilating systems for Washington, Jefferson and Junior High School; repairs for Washington School; outside painting for all schools except the high school; gas furnaces for Ben Franklin and Vocational schools; termite control for the High School and Jefferson School; new school bus and an accounting machine.

The board approved a student accident insurance program for the 1957-58 school term which would cover students during their participation in any school-sponsored activity. The premium is $1.75 per student or employe and pays up to $3,500 for each accident for hospital, surgical, medical or dental care.

It will also pay a $1,000 accidental death benefit.

The board urged that parents purchase this type of accident insurance for their children.

The Reets Typewriter Shop, of McKeesport, was awarded the contract to furnish the district with 30 new typewriters. Although Reets was the third lowest bidder, Dr. Pallone stated the teachers preferred working with the typewriters sold by this firm, which will supply the machines for $3,595. The two other low bids were $3,422.50 and $3,450.

John Duronio was granted approval to represent the district at the National Education Association centennial at Philadelphia June 3 — July 5 and an invitation to have the high school band participate in the Kennywood Festival of Music was acknowledged and turned over to the music department for action.

A lengthy list of adjustments and transfers in the 1956-57 budget was authorized.

Reds Demand Korean Slowdown

PANMUNJOM, Korea, (UP)—The Communist high command demanded today that the United Nations cancel its decision to build up armed strength in South Korea to match that of the Reds in the North.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Gen. Chunk Kook Rok also declared "null and void" the Western Allies' decision to abrogate that part of the armistice agreement freezing the armed strength of both sides at what it was when the fighting ended.

The military armistice commission meeting then recessed for 30 minutes. The first session lasted 50 minutes.

Maj. Gen. Homer Litzenberg of the U. S. Marines, senior Allied representative, told the Reds last week the U.N. Command was tossing out the arms freeze part of the agreement because the Communists had "flagrantly and willfully" violated it in building up their own armed strength.

The handsome North Korean general, his voice crisp, read a 15-minute statement protesting the U. N. action and denying the Allied charges. It was no military buildup, Chung said, since "we have only been engaged in peaceful construction in North Korea."

Allied intelligence said the Reds had beefed up the armed forces in North Korea by 100,000 men, built up a force of more than 700 jet bombers and fighters, imported hundreds of modern Soviet tanks and constructed a chain of 20 or more air bases above the 38th parallel.

The Allies made it clear they would match that arms build up by bringing in swarms of jet fighter and bombers capable of carrying atomic bombs.

Chung said today this was part of "United States policy to prepare for an atomic war".

Kiwanians Plan For Family Picnic

After dinner at the Slovak Home the members of the Kiwanis Club last night suspended all business in favor of an evening of recreation at the shuffleboard courts owned by Dean Mori near Sweeney's.

Mike Dacko and Albert Neale were winners of the tournament.

The Kiwanians plan a family picnic to be held Aug. 6, at City Park.

Two delegates are representing the local club at the Kiwanis International convention in Atlantic City, President Charles Penwick and Lt. Gov. W. R. H. Patterson. They are expected to return tomorrow.

First Hurricane Of Season Is Spotted Off Texas

NEW ORLEANS (UP)— The season's first hurricane, a 'full-grown lady" named Audrey, headed toward the Texas - Louisiana coast today carrying 100 m.p.h. winds.

The latest advisory placed the fast - growing but slow - moving storm at less than 500 miles southwest of New Orleans and about 300 miles south of Brownsville, Tex. Gales extended 125 miles from the center.

Forecasters said movement was in a generally northward direction at about seven m.p.h. The hurricane's direction was expected to swing around toward the northnortheast.

The Louisiana coast appeared to be the most likely spot for it to reach the mainland, but Texas remained alerted.

The New Orleans Weather Bureau said high tides and rough seas were expected along the coast today. Ships were warned to remain in port.

Special Session Of UN Assembly Argued Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Diplomats from 29 nations meet here today to decide whether to ask the General Assembly for further action on Russia's brutal suppression of the Hungarian revolt.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. invited representatives of the other 23 nations who sponsored last week's report on Hungary, along with spokesmen of the five countries who prepared it, to a meeting this afternoon.

Representatives of several nations, most notably Australia, have urged that the assembly be recalled to consider the revelations of shocking Soviet brutality contained in the 150,000-word report.

The United States is believed to oppose the recall of the assembly at this time, partly because a midsummer session probably would attract only second - string delegates from most countries and partly because the propaganda value of a Hungary debate would be greater later in the year.

The U.S. feeling is said to be that new consideration of the Hungary situation should be deferred until about Sept. 1—just before the new assembly convenes—so that the foreign ministers who customarily attend the opening of an assembly session might be on hand.

Fayette Trusty Takes 48-hour 'Honeymoon' Trip

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (UP)—Ronald D. Hull, 18, Fayette County jail prisoner, faced additional time today for taking a 48-hour "honeymoon" with his 16-year-old bride whom he married in a court house ceremony two weeks ago.

Hall, who is serving 11 to 23 months for larceny, walked away from the jail while doing trusty work in the yard. On Monday he appeared at the jail door with his wife and surrendered.

"I'll wait for you," said the young wife, who authorities said had talked her husband into returning to prison and finishing his sentence.

An additional charge of prison breach has been filed against Hall and his sentence could be doubled. He already has served five months.

Corning Glass Works Produces New Items

Corning Glass Works introduced nine new consumer items today. Of the nine, seven are being produced at the company's Charleroi plant.

Of primary interest, as far as volume and potential sales, are the three new Cinderella bowl sets. These new bowls represent a radical departure from the standard Pyrex brand mixing bowl set now being produced at Charleroi.

Each bowl in the four piece set has an integral handle and pouring spout to facilitate food preparation. Bowl sizes remain 1½-pint, 1½ quart, 2½-quart and 4-quart. It was also announced that the company intends to continue its present line of round, colored mixing bowls.

Three new color and decoration schemes for the sets were shown at the New York trade show. One set has two bowls (the 4-quart and 1½ -quart sizes) of turquoise with a white "butterprint" taken from Pennsylvania Dutch designs, alternating with white opal bowls bearing the same print in turquoise.

On another set two pink mixing bowls with a white gooseberry-and-leaf decoration alternate with two white bowls bearing the same motif in pink. A third set features the same decorations in black on alternating yellow and white bowls.

Four new oven-to-table cradled casseroles introduced in New York are also manufactured and assembled in the Charleroi plant.

Featured with the new Pyrex brand heat-resistant decorator casseroles are brass wire cradles with large, easy-to-grasp handles.

Three of the casseroles are mounted in low-slung cradles with brass plated steel runners, holding the casserole off the table.

The covers of all the casseroles are clear Pyrex brand glass with integral handles. They can also be used as extra table tiles or baking and serving dishes.

Conveniently packaged in a colorful box, each mounted casserole is identified by a printed decoration on the outside of the package, echoing the motif of the casserole.

The company, stressing the versatility of glass and its ability to meet the rapid changes of modern design, plans to market these mounted casseroles as specials for the fall and Christmas gift season.

Union Official Gets Term for Assault

SHARON, Pa. (UP) — Walter Phillips, an official of the International Union of Electrical Workers began a 30-to-60-day jail term Tuesday on an assault and battery charge resulting from last year's strike against Westinghouse Electric Corp.

Phillips was found guilty of striking Arthur B. Hicks, of Sandy Lake, an employe returning to work. The state Superior Court upheld the conviction on June 12.

Local Plebe at West Point Talks to Rotary

Charles Belan, of Monessen who has just completed his plebe year at the U. S. Military Academy said here yesterday that he "wouldn't go through it again for a million dollars".

But he quickly added that he wouldn't take a million dollars for the experience, either.

Cadet Belan, home from West Point for a month's leave, spoke to the Monessen Rotary Club at its weekly meeting at Johnson's.

Describing a typical day in the life of a West Point cadet, Belan stressed the rigorous restrictions imposed on first-year men.

But he said the whole Academy program is based on the "plebe system" and without it "there would be no West Point".

Belan, a graduate of Monessen High School, said he intends to make the Army his career.

Coordination Vital

A LAW which was passed in the closing days of the state Assembly session just adjourned will make it almost mandatory, it seems to us, that Monessen and Rostraver Twp. engage in some sort of cooperative long-range planning.

This new law will require the consent of the full electorate of any second class township (Rostraver is such a township) before any part of the township can be annexed by an adjoining municipality. Previously it was necessary to have the consent only of a majority of the property owners in the area affected.

Monessen, being completely surrounded by Rostraver Twp., has an obvious concern with the effect of this law. Had it been on the books in recent years, much of the development in the City Park area could not have taken place. for township government is not geared to supply the services required. And it seems reasonable to suppose that a majority of all Rostraver voters would not have consented to the annexations which took place even though the property involved was largely acreage.

But now what of the future?

Well, that depends. it seems to us. on how much good will and common sense can be brought to bear on the problems of neighborhood growth. Without good will and common sense these problems might easily become perpetual bones of contention impeding the progress of both the city and the township.

Monessen is well along in the preparation of its long-range master plan. Rostraver has appointed a planning commission, and the two groups have held at least one informative conference.

The situation seems to us to call for continuous coordination. Regardless of where the respective municipal boundaries may fall on the map at any given time. this is increasingly a single neighborhood composed of people whose common interests and needs are far more numerous than their differences.

We hope this essential truth can be recognized promptly, especially by the elected officials of the city and township. If it is, this new law can be made to serve the progress of both.

'Cleaner' Bombs

THE ANNOUNCEMENT that American scientists are now able to produce a hydrogen bomb which is relatively (about 95 per cent) free of radioactive fallout puts a slightly different complexion on one of the controversial aspects of the nuclear weapons race.

Some scientists and a few more or less prominent politicians have been worrying publicly for some time about the fallout from the testing of nuclear bombs. Some horrible pictures have been painted about what this might be doing to the human race, including generations yet unborn.

However, the responsible government physicists and other experts, the Atomic Energy Commission and the President of the United States have maintained that the tests, at the present rate, are not creating a public health hazard. And most Americans have been inclined to accept the official pronouncements on the matter or at least to prefer to take whatever risks might be involved in maintaining U. S. leadership in the development of new weapons.

But the news that it is possible now to make a relatively "clean" bomb should allay some of the concern.

* * *

THE REAL NEED of the world. of course. is genuine disarmament and not just fewer bombs or "cleaner" bombs. For our part, we are not particular whether we get killed by the fallout from a hydrogen bomb or a poisoned arrow. The net result is approximately the same in each case.

All the scientific research is undoubtedly necessary and must continue. But we are much more interested in the research into the ways and means of eliminating war as a method of settling international disputes.

Just now the focus of this research is in London where the marathon discussions with the Russians seem at least to be skirting the fringe of some limited agreement. Let us hope that the progress there can keep pace with that in the laboratories.

An Old Problem

THE U. S. Supreme Court made a commendable effort in a couple of decisions this week to lay down some legal principles for determining when published material is obscene to the point where it does not qualify for the protection of the First Amendment. But it did not seem to us to be very successful.

This has always been a problem in a society based on free expression. One man's "obscenity" is quite often another's "art" just as one man's "facts" can be another's fiction.

The two decisions this week may prove to be helpful. We certainly hope so. The law need not ignore filth for filth's sake.

But in the field of literature at least, we are inclined to feel that the best censor is the public's tastes, rather than a policeman or even a high-minded court of learned judges.

Merry-Go-Round—

'Saratoga' Sprucedup For Ike Visit

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — While the Navy is crying for more funds, the aircraft carrier Saratoga managed to scrape up $65,000 to beautify itself for President Eisenhower's recent overnight cruise. Ike's cabin alone cost $3,500 to redecorate in a style befitting the chief executive. Even the ship's mascot, a seagoing rooster, got doused with white paint to match the gleaming white bulkheads. This touch was added by a disgruntled crewman who dumped a bucket of paint over the rooster as a protest against the extra work.

Mr. Pearson

The fancy refurbishing was ordered by the Saratoga's skipper, Capt. Robert Moore, who alibied to this column he didn't have Ike in mind at all. The big super carrier happened to need repainting, he said, before the presidential visit.

Moore also denied spending $65,000 which, he said, was the ship's total repair budget for the quarter. He claimed the cabin, where Ike slept one night, had been ruined by workmen and needed refixing anyhow.

Skipper Disputed

Other Saratoga officers, interviewed by this column, disputed their skipper. They pointed out the Saratoga was launched only a year ago and didn't need a paint job already. They also claimed the cabin, selected for Ike by the Secret Service, was perfectly shipshape. Captain Moore spent $3,500 refurnishing and redecorating it, they said, simply to impress the President.

The Saratoga's interior had been a beige color which didn't sparkle enough to suit Moore. He also complained that the deck looked like "mustard yellow" to him. After word that the President might come aboard, Moore ordered the whole works repainted white and the deck re-tiled with expensive green-and-white Kentile.

The Saratoga happens to be the biggest ship in the Navy. To redecorate it takes a lot of paint and tile Crew members claim the captain not only spent the full $65,000 repair budget, but used up every cent available to the ship. The supply officer can't buy enough pencils to carry on the paper work, they say, until new funds are allotted at the end of the fiscal year.

Says Rules Violated

One officer, Lt Com Eugene Cash, complained that Moore's repainting order technically violated naval regulations. He asked Moore to sign the order in writing But the skipper angrily refused.

"There was no reason to sign," he explained to this column, "because my order did NOT violate naval regulations."

Moore also ordered an officer to get another set of slip covers for the furniture in the admiral's cabins. To get them the officer started looking into some furniture that Moore had brought with him from his last ship, the escort carrier Sitkoh.

Subordinates claim Moore confined the officer to quarters for ten days for getting into his furniture. Moore says the officer put dirty slip covers on the furniture intended for Ike's use, but denies taking any disciplinary action.

Some how Florida's Congressman A. S. Herlong got wind that the Saratoga had spent thousands of dollars sprucing up for Ike. He asked the Navy for a full report, and the Navy wired Moore for his explanation.

Captain Explains

He promptly ordered the records of every crew member searched to find out who came from Herlong's district and might have tipped him off. Moore then wired the Pentagon that he had inherited such a dirty ship he had been forced to repaint and redecorate. He carefully destroyed all copies of his wire, presumably to conceal his reply from officers who knew what condition the ship had been in.

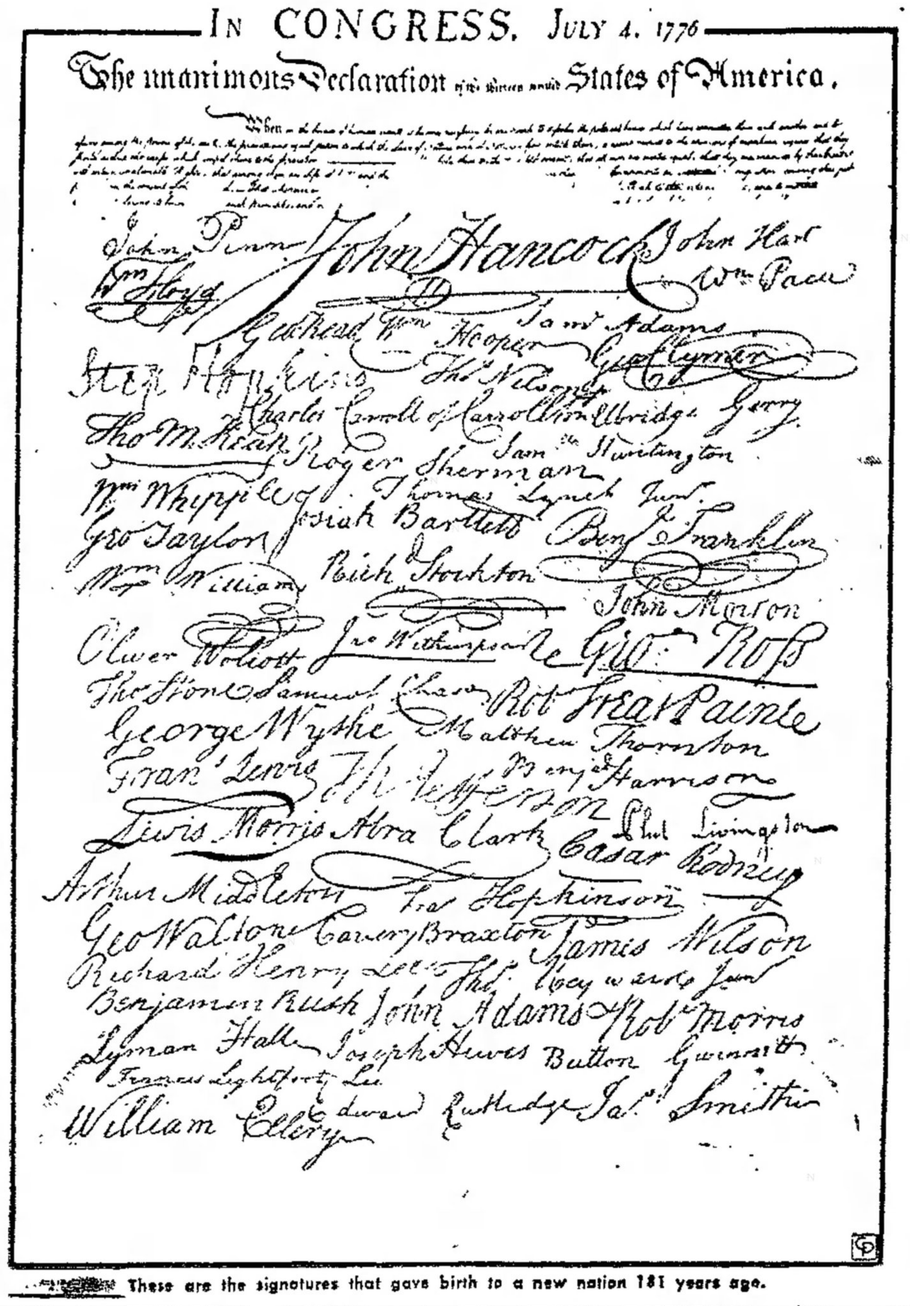
Bob Moore is a dashing officer and crackerjack seaman. His superiors say he is a hot prospect for promotion to admiral. Even his most disgruntled subordinates admit he can handle a ship masterfully. But they say he has expensive tastes which he is inclined to gratify at the taxpayers' expense.

After he took command of the Saratoga, he refurnished and redecorated his cabin though it was almost brand new. He even installed a fish pond in one cabin. At Mayport, Fla., he added a couple more bushes. These mysteriously disappeared over the ship's side. Moore says the bushes were presented to him by a steward.

"I don't know who threw them overboard, but I was glad to get rid of them," he says.

Moore also ordered an RCA hi-fi set which he admits was paid out of the crew's recreation fund.

"The recreation fund is intended for officers, too," he explains.



These are the signatures that gave birth to a new nation 181 years ago.

From Washington—

State vs. Federal Spending

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. — When you escape from Washington where the Battle of the Budget is still furious and come here to this placid colonial scene where the annual conference of the nation's governors is in progress, you might well expect at once to run into an invigorating atmosphere of economy, frugality and reduced spending.

Mr. Drummond

If you are looking for a lone oasis of lower taxes and less government, don't look at these governors: you won't find it; it's a mirage. You won't find such talk from any governor of any state from any section of the country. It doesn't exist.

I've been here only a few hours and I now know that the reason I can't find any governor — from California's Goodwin Knight to Maine's Democratic Edmund S. Muskie — who is cutting his budget and easing taxes, even just a smitch, is that there isn't any such animal anywhere in any state government in the United States.

State Spending Rises

The opposite is the truth — without exception.

State spending is mounting far more rapidly than federal spending.

The increase in the Eisenhower budget is small change compared to the percentage increase in the state budgets.

The pertinent facts are these: State budgets this year will total approximately $25,500,000,000.

Over the past ten years state budgets have gone up almost 300 per cent while over the same period the federal budget has increased not quite 100 per cent.

This year every state in the union is operating on a record budget and there doesn't appear to be a single state which will escape still higher spending next year.

At least half of the states are raising taxes in one form or another this year.

No Partisan Explanation

There is no partisan explanation behind the increased spending at the state level. States with Democratic administrations are spending more; states with Republican administrations are spending more.

Republican New Hampshire, for example, faces a new budget of $78,000,000. While the Eisenhower federal budget is up 11 per cent over a year ago, the New Hampshire budget is up 33 per cent over a year ago and has risen 400 per cent in the current decade.

Democratic Governor Muskie's state of Maine budget has risen from $32,000,000 to $80,000,000 in the current decade, a percentage increase slightly less than the national average for states. The budget of traditionally Democratic Nevada is today seven times larger than it was ten years ago.

California has the biggest state budget in the nation — it hovers around $2,000,000,000 — and Governor Knight is proud of it.

Uniform Causes

The consensus of the governors with whom I have talked is that the causes of the upward spiral of state spending are just about the same for every state. They cite almost uniformly the increased cost and need for education, welfare, highways and institutions, medical and mental.

Many states are undertaking projects delayed by World War II and the Korean War.

The inflated dollar with its deflated purchasing power forces up state spending as it does federal spending. Our steadily growing population, which is itself a source of strength, does the same thing. California, the fastest-growing state, has seen its population mount from 9,800,000 to 14,600,000 in ten years.

The theory that federal spending ought to be reducible when state expenditures are going up is obviously not working out.

Those who see reduced spending as the first objective of government ought logically to be focusing their pressure first on state governments whose rate of increased spending is going up far faster than that of the federal government and which don't have the overriding burdens of the cold war.

Behind The News—

Italy's Cabinet Crisis Seen Growing Worse

By CHARLES M. McCANN

Italy's cabinet crisis is getting worse instead of better as it enters its eighth week.

It seems increasingly likely that a special parliamentary election, one year ahead of schedule, will be necessary to end the tangle.

Mr. McCann

It seems likely also that sooner or later a showdown will be necessary on the constitutional powers of President Giovanni Gronchi.

Gronchi's insistence on trying to play the part of a "strong man" in politics instead of acting as a figurehead, as he is supposed to do, has played a big part in the political confusion.

Socialists Desert Him

Premier Antonio Segni resigned on May 6 after the tiny Republican Party and then the larger right wing Socialist Party deserted his Christian Democrats and thus broke up the government coalition.

Adone Zoli, another Christian Democrat, formed a cabinet on May 20.

Zoli confined his cabinet to Christian Democrats, hoping to run the government with the support of other moderate parties.

Zoli managed to get a vote of confidence in the Chamber of Deputies for his cabinet. But there was a miscount of votes. When the count was checked, it developed that he got his majority only because the extreme right wing "Neo - Fascists" voted for him.

Zoli refused to accept a mandate which depended on extremist support. He resigned on June 10.

Refuses Resignation

President Gronchi called in man after man in a vain attempt to get a successor. Finally, Gronchi announced last Saturday that he refused to accept Zoli's resignation and toldhim to carry on.

Zoli went before the Chamber of Deputies today to make a new start It was forecast that the chamber would let him remain in office for a while at least. But his Christian Democrats hold only 260 seats in the 590 - seat chamber. Thus he is at the mercy of other parties.

The whole tangle stems really from the multi - party political system which has weakened a number of European countries for years and which made possible the rise of Benito Mussolini in Italy and Adolf Hitler in Germany. Some Italian political leaders are talking now of the possibility of forming two strong parties by merging various groups. But it appeas to be merely talk.

The Woman's View—

Why Shouldn't Princess Date Younger Man?

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UP — Go ahead Princess Margaret and date a man younger than yourself.

Experts on how to have a happy marriage say a few years difference in chronological age doesn't matter. It is the emotional maturity of the couple which counts. Love helps, of course.

Gay Pauley

The British princess, who is 27, has been keeping constant company with Lord Patrick Beresford, who is highly eligible and 23. The young peer has been Margaret's theater escort, taken her riding, and been among the house guests at Windsor Castle during the Royal Ascot racing meet. The result has been new speculation on the marriage plans of the princess, who last year turned down Group Capt. Peter Townsend, 43, because he had been divorced.

There are those who hint the Queen's kid sister now is robbing the cradle.

May Ask For Trouble

But Dr Marion F. Langer, a sociologist and author of a book called "Learning To Live As A Widow," says that she's just being practical, so far as man and woman's comparative life span is concerned. Dr. Langer said in England too, the women outlive the men.

But she does think any girl, either a princess or plain Mary Jones, is asking for trouble from the Mrs. Grundy department if she marries a man her junior.

"Society isn't ready to accept this," said Mrs. Langer, "although the girl is wise."

"I do not presume to speak for the British culture," said Dr Abraham Stone, a physician and past president of the American Assn. of Marriage Counselors. "But I feel that age difference is no handicap to a happy marriage."

Dr. Stone and his wife are authors of "A Marriage Manual," now in its 37th printing.

Depends On Individuals

"Happiness depends on the individuals," said Dr. Stone. "I know of many cases in which the wife is as much as 10 years older than her husband. Yet they are well adjusted couples with families."

Dr. Lena Levine, a prominent New York psychiatrist, said "It is the emotional, not the chronological age which matters A 23-year-old man can be as mature as one who is 30. And we all know 50-year-old persons who are still infants.

"Margaret's young man may be very mature, very sophisticated."

"But I don't believe in big gaps in ages," she continued "Then you're getting into motivations other than love, mother or father complexes and the like."

Quotes from the News

By UNITED PRESS

WILLIAMSBURG, Va — President Eisenhower, on the decline of states' 'rights and responsibilities:

"I believe deeply in states' rights, but it is idle to champion states' rights without upholding states' responsibilities as well."

SUN VALLEY, Idaho—Louis C Wyman, president of the National Association of Attorneys General, on recent Supreme Court decisions relating to subversive activities:

"These decisions have set the United States back 25 years in its attempt to make certain that those loyal to a foreign power cannot create another Trojan horse here."

NEW YORK — James Norris, president of the International Boxing Club of New York, on a federal court order that the IBC be dissolved:

"I'll stay in boxing, whether we appeal or don't—even if it's only in the Midwest."

WASHINGTON — Rep. Stewart L. Udall (D-Ariz.), reporting that one Arizona farmer will receive a government check for $209,710 under the administration's soil bank for not planting cotton.

"We should coin a new term 'boonswoggling' to cover the manipulations of some of these farmers who are attempting to hornswoggle the taxpayers of the United States."

NEW YORK — Evangelist Billy Graham, on a forthcoming rally at Yankee Stadium:

"I understand that some of the smart boys around town are giving 10-1 odds that we can't fill the stadium I have confidence that the Christian people of New York will come there and bring their unchurched friends."

Story of the Royal Mounted

By UNITED PRESS

"The Living Legend," by Alan Phillips (Little, Brown): Over the years, a great deal of nonsense has been written and filmed about the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. The facts about this force are remarkable enough to make invention seem unnecessary.

This is a straightforward account of the accomplishments of the 5,370-odd men who patrol 3.6 million square miles of Canada, performing routine functions of government as often as normal police duties.

Except for ceremonial purposes, the red-coated horsemen who canter across so many movie screens are a thing of the past Today's Mountie usually wears an inconspicuous uniform of chocolate brown and travels by car, ship or plane in the performance of his duties.

In the course of his career, a Mountie may be called upon to perform all or any part of the duties of a Secret Service man, an FBI agent, a Texas Ranger, a Coast Guardsman or a small-town cop.

Emma Jean Gerbin Weds Alex Kovacs

Emma Jean Gerbin became Mrs. Alex Edward Kovacs, Jr., in a nuptial ceremony solemnized on Saturday morning, June 22, at 10:30 o'clock in St. Leonard Church. The Rev. J. L. Conway heard the exchange of vows before an altar arranged with ferns and flowers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Gerbin, 1005 Athalia Ave. and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex E. Kovacs, Sr., of Smithton R.D.

The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage, down a crash lined aisle and the family pews were marked with white satin bows. She wore a gown of white imported Chantilly lace over satin with a square neckline, full skirt with a chapel train and inserts of sequin trimmed lace. The fingertip veil fashioned by the bride was held in place by a band of Chantilly lace and sequins and she carried a spray of white stephanotis and daisies.

Maid of Honor

Maid of honor was Kay Gerbin, sister of the bride, who wore pink nylon and chiffon styled ballerina length with fly away panels, lace bodice and scoop neckline. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations. Bridesmaid was another sister, Barbara Gerbin, who wore a similar ensemble only in blue. Her flowers were pink carnations. An identical ensemble in blue was chosen by the matron of honor, Mrs. Dolores Sebastian.

John Yamnicky, a cousin of the bridegroom, was best man and the ushers were Leonard Gerbin, brother of the bride and Carmen Sebastian, brother-in-law of the groom.

Poudre blue ensembles were worn by the mothers of both the bride and bridegroom, who also wore red rose corsages. Mrs Gerbin wore crepe and lace and Mrs. Kovacs wore taffeta and lace.

There was a noon dinner at the Croatian Hall for the immediate families and in the evening there was a reception held there Guests attended from Farrell, Elizabeth, New Castle, Smithton, McKeesport and Jacksonville, Fla.

Leave for Florida

The bride was wearing a pink linen dress with black accessories when the couple left for Miami, Fla. and when they return they will live in Smithton R D.

The bride was graduated from Monessen High School and California State Teachers College, where she received a Bachelor of Science degree. She is now a teacher in the Linden School. Her husband was graduated from McKeesport High School, California State Teachers College and obtained his Master of Science degree at the University of Pittsburgh. He is now a teacher at Connellsville High School

The mother of the bride entertained at a rehearsal party on Friday evening at her home and at this time the bride and groom gave their attendants gifts.

Connie Lou Indof, Elizabeth Man Are Married

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Connie Lou Indof and Dominick DiClaudio, which took place in the St. Charles R. C. Church of Sutersville Parish House on June 1, at 10:30 o'clock in the morning.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Indof, of Fifth St. Extension, West Newton and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orteo DiClaudio, of Elizabeth R. D. 3.

The parents of the couple were present for the double ring rites.

The bridegroom's sister, Anna Di Claudio, served as maid of honor and his brother, Sylvis, was best man.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of white tulle and lace and her fingertip veil fell from a headpiece of pearls and sequins.

After the wedding breakfast at Sweeney's the couple left for an eastern trip and when they return they will live at 103 Fifth St., West Newton. Both are West Newton High School graduates. The bride is employed by Bell Telephone and the bridegroom at the Clairton mill.

OFF TO WEST CHESTER — Janice Calderone, (left) who served as general chairman of the Miss Mon Valley Contest gives her good wishes and those of the sponsoring club, Junior Women's Club of Monessen, to Nada Luti (center) and Carolyn Ghrist, "Miss Mon Valley" as they prepared to leave for the Miss Pennsylvania contest at West Chester shortly before 10 o'clock this morning. Miss Luti will be the official representative of the club. Miss Christ will take part in the pageant on Friday and Saturday night in an effort to bring back the state title to the valley.

Miss Mon Valley Leaves Today for State Pageant

Carolyn Ghrist, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. I. Ghrist, of Claysville, who on June 12th won the title, "Miss Mon Valley" in a pageant staged at Twin Coaches by the Junior Women's Club of Monessen left this morning for West Chester and the Miss Pennsylvania contest.

The local contest is an official Miss America pageant and the winner moves up to a state level in West Chester in her climb to the national title. Accompanying Miss Ghrist on her trip will be Nada J. Luti, a member of the sponsoring club.

Also making the journey to West Chester will be Patricia Ginglardi Bell, last year's Miss Mon Valley, who will be accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Patsy Ginglardi, of Belle Vernon and Bernice Turney, of Lynnwood. Mrs. Bell was extended the honor of being asked to sing a solo at this year's pageant, which will be staged at Longwood Gardens, a luxurious setting surrounding a manion in the outskirts of town. Last year Mrs Bell brought note to the valley by winning the talent award in state competition.

For Miss Ghrist, who was permitted to seek the valley title as a student at California State Teachers College, the next few days will be a round of excitement. Upon her arrival in West Chester, she and Miss Luti will be received into one of the homes of the community, where they will be guests. Mrs. Bell and her mother will also be entertained in a local home.

Miss Ghrist will be assigned a car and an official hostess, who will look after every detail of her stay. The next two days will be devoted to social events and rehearsals and finally on Friday evening Miss Mon Valley will join with 26 other girls in the pageant presentation. The Friday night night showing will feature half the girls in evening gowns and talent competition and the other half in bathing suit competition. A similar schedule will be followed in the Saturday evening finals. A talent award and bathing suit award is given each night and on Saturday five finalists will be chosen. Each will be asked three questions and then the judges will select the winner.

Miss Ghrist will be judged on beauty of face and figure on talent and general personality Her talent presentation will be a reading from George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion."

Engagement of Area Couple Is Announced

Big Six Trying to Hold Meeting

The "new" Big Six Football Conference is still trying to hold its first formal meeting. It seems Brownsville High is holding things up. The Brownies still haven't approved the proposed new constitution which will put principals in charge of the show. Other valley schools, Monessen, Charleroi, Donora and Monongahela, have okayed the constitution through their respective school boards. Brownsville is expected to go along without trouble. It seems the Brownie School Board just hasn't gotten around to the matter. And until they do, the new Conference will be unable to function.

* * *

Incidentally, one of the first items of business for the Conference is to consider new members. Redstone, written out of the constitution for failure to attend organization meetings, has already requested readmission. Two other district schools have also indicated that they'd be happy to join if extended an invitation . . . According to the new constitution, it takes a two-thirds majority to okay new members. Since there are five schools in the current set-up, it will require approval from four to get into the valley circuit.

* * *

Redstone May Face Opposition

To be perfectly frank about it, Redstone may NOT get back into the Conference. One school (Monongahela) is almost certain to vote against the Hawks. That means just one more vote will slam the door. Two other schools are lukewarm on the Redstone issue. However they may go along if the Hawks provide some assurance that visiting teams and fans will get better protection in the future . . . Bellmar High's fine footballer, John Hewitt, has enlisted in the Navy and is scheduled to leave for active duty later in the week . . . John Mallino, former Monessen High footballer, is back home for the summer from classes at Penn State. He's working at the high school . . . By the way, John hopes to play some football at State if an injured knee mends properly.

* * *

Remember Vic Latriam, the former standout sandlot baseballer from Monessen? He's living in California now and has a son who has inherited his baseball skill. The boy is going under the family's right name, Tony Satriano. He is a standout member of the Loyola High nine in Los Angeles even though he's still in Junior High. The past scholastic season he hit .422 as a regular third baseman. He was named to the All-Southern California second team . . . Our thanks to Hooks McLaughlin, another transplanted Monessenite for that item. Hooks reports that there are so many former city people now living in Southern California, that the annual "Monessen" picnic will again be held this Sunday as a get-together session.

Windber Located Near Johnstown

Monessen High will open its 1957 football season at Windber. All of which has prompted this query: "Where is Windber and how big a school is it?" . . . Windber is located a short distance beyond Johnstown. The school enrollment is a shade under 900, making it just about the same size as Monessen . . . In the past Windber has always turned out strong football teams. Last season, one of the Windber wins was a 7-0 decision over McKeesport . . . Now participating in District 5 of the PIAA, Windber is reportedly anxious to get into the WPIAL as a double-A. That's why the school is loading up with WPIAL foes.

Mantle Leads Fight Against Dread Disease

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK, (UP)—The memory of a sad day six years ago paid off for Mickey Mantle today in a merciful memorial to his father.

Mickey still thinks of that day in 1951 when, in the second game of the World Series, he went flying across the outfield grass in pursuit of a fly ball. His spikes caught in a drain grating and Mantle went down as if shot, his knee twisted and his embryo future in doubt.

That night, the Mick was joined in his Lenox Hill Hospital room by his father, a victim of Hodgkins disease.

Watched Series Together

Together they saw the final games of the series on television from that hospital room. And young Mickey was able to make it back.

His father didn't.

Two months later the elder Mantle died of the dread disease and Mickey, remembering those days when they lay suffering together, began thinking of how he could do something to help eradicate the disease which had killed his father.

Last spring he was jolted into action. Mickey received a letter advising him that St. Vincent's Hospital, which had been conducting research against Hodgkins disease, was about to give up its work because its funds were exhausted. His determination hardened when he visited a hospital and saw children afflicted with the disease.

The result was announcement Monday of the Mickey Mantle Fund for research in Hodgkins disease, which is cancer of the lymph glands. And the fund was led off by presentation of a $5,000 check to Mantle by Francis Cardinal Spellman.

Stars Support Fund

Baseball is solidly behind Mantle's fund. The honorary committee includes Ford Frick, Ted Williams, Willie Mays—who hit that fly ball the day Mickey twisted his knee—Yogi Berra, Ted Kluszewski, PeeWee Reese, Ed Mathews, Ernie Banks, Eddie Yost, George Kell, Stan Musial, Robin Roberts, Bob Friend, Billy Pierce, Harvey Kuenn, Billy Martin and Herb Score.

"I want to thank everybody," Mickey said quietly. "I'm glad to be able to establish this memorial to my dad. He did everything in the world for me. This is little enough to do in his memory."

It was his finest performance, regardless of whether he breaks every record in the baseball books.

Basilio Arrives For Jeannette Show

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Welter weight champion Carmen Basilio will be guest of honor today at a press luncheon.

Basilio will appear in a four round exhibition at McKee Field Jeannette, Thursday night with Lee Owens, a welterweight from Syracuse.

The fight card's main event will be a 10-round bout between welters Reuben Stubbs and Wayman Dawson.

PNA Tops Ravens in City Loop

PNA clipped the Ravens, 5-1, yesterday in City Softball League action which was featured by Paul Petrusky's clever five hit pitching.

The Ravens averted a shutout in the sixth inning on a double by Ed Macik, infield out and sacrifice fly.

PNA wrapped up the tussle with a four run outburst in the third inning.

Ed Malush provided a clutch single in that frame to chase across two runs.

Pair of Hits

Tom Kovach, Wine Teske and Petrusky each had a pair of hits for the losers. Bob Mascetta collected two for the Birds.

Tonight's City League action will send the Cro-Ams against Italian Hall.

Ozarks Appear At West Newton

The Monessen Ozarks will try to pull out of their Mon Valley League slump tonight at Van Voorhis.

The Ozarks have slipped all the way to sixth place in the MVL standings. The Vans are a half game further down.

That means Monessen must win tonight or drop to seventh place.

In other MVL contests, Fayette City will go to Donora, Perryopolis to New Eagle and West Newton to Charleroi.

The Elks moved to the top of the National Division standings in the Little League last night, tripping the Lions, 11-3.

The Legion helped out by upsetting CIO 4-1.

Over in the American Division, VFW polished off the Ravens, 23-12. In another game, Page Local was ahead of Park Service, 7-6 after three innings when darkness halted things. That contest will be completed at a later date.

The Elks won behind steady seven hit pitching by Larry Davis. He fanned eight.

The winners shoved over six runs in the first inning on four walks, an error and hit-batsman. Dick Kunsa had three singles to pace the Lions.

Great Pitching

Legion also got great pitching from Claude Garry who fanned 11. He missed a shutout when Buster Karenchak homered in the third inning.

Bruce Davis had a homer and triple to pace Legion.

VFW had an easy time swamping the Ravens. John Sivie led the attack with a three run homer, in addition to a double and single.

For the losers, John Tweardy had a three run homer and two singles as well.

Boyd, Castellani On TV Tonight

CHICAGO (UP)—Middleweights Bobby Boyd and Rocky Castellani battle before the TV cameras tonight, each planning on a win to vault into a spot in any possible future eliminations to pick a title challenger.

Boyd, a hometown fighter, was a slight favorite. But he will give away experience to Castellani, who among his 10 defeats lists losses to two former titleholders, Ray (Sugar) Robinson and Carl (Bobo) Olson.

"He's fought better boys than Boyd," his manager, Al Netman, said. "He dropped Robinson and he dropped Olson, and he's very confident he'll win tonight."

New York state ranks first in the manufacture of paper, furniture and apparel.

Cubs Drop Bucs to Last Place

CHICAGO (UP)—The Chicago Cubs and the Pittsburgh Pirates—two teams whose chief worry of the moment is staying out of the National League cellar—meet today in a doubleheader.

The Cubs lifted themselves out of the cellar and dropped the Pirates there Tuesday by taking the opening game of their four-game series, 5-3.

The victory gave the Cubs an eight percentage point margin over the Pirates, .362 to .354.

Jack Littrell, Dale Long and Walt Moryn hit home runs for the Cubs. Littrell's homer, his first in the major leagues, accounted for three runs.

Gopher Balls

All three roundtrippers came off Pirate starter Bob Friend, who went down to his eighth defeat. Friend's gopher total is 18 for the season.

The victory was credited to relief hurler Dave Hillman, his first of the year after five defeats. He relieved starter Don Kaiser with two runs in and only one out in the first inning and went on to limit the Bucs to four hits until the eighth, when three consecutive singles produced a run after two were out and brought Turk Lown to the mound.

Vern Law (3-3) and Ron Kline (2-11) start for the Pirates today against Tom Poholsky (1-2) and Moe Drabowsky (4-6).

Bragan Fined

Pirate manager Bobby Bragan was fined $50 by League President Warren Giles Tuesday for "bush league" tactics in the Sunday doubleheader in Cincinnati. Bragan was thrown out of the first game and in the second game Bob Purkey and Dee Fondy got the thumb. Giles messaged Bragan it was up to a manager to maintain discipline on his bench.

The Pirates optioned shortstop Ken Hamlin to their Lincoln, Neb., farm club in the Class A Western League to make room for pitcher Joe Trimble, who was taken off the disabled list. Trimble underwent a knee operation in spring training.

Johnson Named Top Contender

NEW YORK, (UP) — Harold Johnson of Philadelphia was named top contender for the light heavyweight crown today in the Ring Magazine's latest ratings.

The new designation, climaxing a remarkable rebound may help his campaign for a shot at Archie Moore's 175-pound title.

Twenty-eight - year-old Johnson, who can fight as a heavyweight or light heavy, was previously listed as the fourth-ranking heavyweight aspirant. But his impressive first-round knockout of light-heavy contender Clarence Hinnant on May 31 and his announced campaign for Moore's title, helped shift him to the 175-pound rankings at the top.

He was aided also by Canadian Yvon Durelle's upset drawn with Tony Anthony of New York. Anthony dropped from the top to No. 2, and previously unranked Durelle was brought in at number eight.

Hounds Sports Program Costly

Big Light Bill Completely Drains MHS Sports Treasury

Monessen High's 1956-57 sports program was a losing proposition, financially.

That was disclosed in the annual report submitted by Athletic Director Everett Pancook.

At the moment, the athletic treasury is $900.83 in the red. And since there was $3,737.55 at the start of the year, that means the total sports loss came to $4,638.38.

However that isn't quite as bad as it sounds. One of the biggest expense items was a $5,500 payment on the lighting system at Memorial Stadium.

Except for the light bill, the sports program would have operated in the black.

As usual, both football and basketball showed profits. The footballers cleared $3,496.61, while the basketballers showed a profit of $1,731.56.

Other Losses

All other sports showed losses, though.

Both Junior High football and Junior High basketball lost almost $700 each. The baseball team cost the sports treasury $635.58 while the track team drained away $6465.66.

The volleyball bill came to $122.93 while the tennis team cost $136.69.

The total sports income during the year amounted to $23,765.31. Expenses came to $28,403.69.

Most of the expenses went showed.

Braves Overpower Yankees, 16-5

Braves easily overpowered the Yankees, 16-5, yesterday to stay atop the Minor League standings.

Tommy Rocco slammed four hits for the winners. Dan Cosner earned credit for the pitching win, fanning nine on a six hitter.

For the Yanks, Mike Kootsouradis had a pair of hits.

Linder Keeps PRA Point Lead

Dick Linder of Pittsburgh retained his PRA point lead over Herb Scott, Wexford, by winning last night's mid-season championship 50-lap feature race at Arden Downs in Washington.

Linder, who took the lead at about 23rd lap, waged a furious battle with Scott for the remainder of the race. He now has 918 points to 900 for Scott.

Charleroi Nips Perryopolis, 4-3

Charleroi nipped Perryopolis, 4-3, in Mon Valley League baseball last night.

Carl Witmyer tossed brilliant two hit bal for the victors. He gave up both safeties in the sixth inning when Perry also took advantage of two walks to score three runs.

Larry Papini homered for the Charleroians while Walt Cieplcy chipped in with three hits.

DOCTORING YOUR GOLF

By CARY MIDDLECOFF

Piccolo Grip

Many golfers have trouble holding on to the club with the left hand at the top of the backswing. They relax the grip for a more comfortable backswing. This causes the hand to part, and the lefthand grip becomes like the grip of a man fingering the holes of a piccolo.

To prevent this, many players grip the club extra tight with the left and, especially with the last three fingers, since they think that this is where the greatest pressure should lie.

They couldn't be more wrong! If the grip is too tight at the start, the tendency will be to relax it as the top of the swing nears.

Best to start off with a left-hand grip of even pressure. Grip with all fingers of the left hand. True, the greatest pressure should be in the last three fingers at the top. But squeezing at the start won't bring this about.

Lions Regain Lead In Pony League

The Lions regained the PONY League lead last night, tripping the Ravens, 6-3.

All season long, those two teams have been swapping first place.

There may be another switch tonight, too. The Lions only own merely a slim half game advantage.

This evening's schedule will match CIO against the Ravens and the Lions against the Eagles.

Tony Romasco and Andy Carollo teamed up to pace the Lions.

Romasco pitched a steady seven hitter, fanning nine batters in the process. Carollo helped out with a round-tripper.

For the losers, Bill Dawson slammed a two-bagger.

Eagles Win

In another PONY tussle, the Eagles surprised CIO, 10-9.

Oddly enough the hitting star of the game was a member of the losing cast — John Fedarko. He slammed a triple and three singles.

Predicts Giants, Dodgers on Way To West Coast

By ERNEST BARCELLA

WASHINGTON (UP)—Rep. Patrick J. Hillings predicts that the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants will play baseball on the West Coast next year.

The California Republican expressed his belief in an interview with the United Press Tuesday night. He based his prediction on talks with officials of the two clubs.

The prospective Giant - Dodger shift was due for a thorough airing today before the House judiciary subcommittee studying sports anti-trust legislation. Hillings, Dodger President Walter O'Malley and Giant President Horace Stoneham all were called to testify on the move.

Other witnesses included New York City Council President Abe Stark and Leslie O'Connor, president of the Pacific Coast League.

Wants to Know

Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), subcommittee chairman, said he would try to learn from the witnesses whether the Dodgers and Giants actually will move to Los Angeles and San Francisco as authorizied by the National League May 28. Neither club has said yet whether it will exercise its option to shift to the West Coast.

But Hillings, who has spearheaded the campaign to bring big league ball to the West Coast, said there was no doubt in his mind that the moves would be made.

"I have reason to believe that the contracts are all signed and that they are ready to pack up and go as soon as the 1957 season closes," he said.

Deal All Set

"The deal is all set and I am convinced on the basis of conversations with officials of both clubs that the transfer of the Dodgers to Los Angeles and the Giants to San Francisco will be made, effective with the 1958 season."

At least one auxiliary contract is understood to have been signed. It is an agreement between O'Malley and a pay-as-you-see TV firm which has made guarantees to presidents of both the Dodgers and Giants.

Wires for the pay-as-you-see television already are being strung in Los Angeles, Hillings said.

Dodgers, Yanks Get Top Salaries

WASHINGTON (UP)—It pays to be a Yankee but no one has to pull in his belt with the Dodgers, either.

The Yankees had the largest payroll in professional baseball last year, having paid their players a total of $492,000, accoding to finacial figures submitted to a house judiciary committee.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, however, paid the highest average salary—$18,880—to the 25 players on its roster. The Dodgers' entire payroll was $472,000.

The Yankees' 28 players were paid in average salary of $17,570, with Yogi Berra drawing the highest pay, $58,000.

Top National League salary was $75,000 and it apparently went to Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals. The individual players were not identified in the financial figures.

Slugging outfielder Ted Williams of the Red Sox has generally been regarded the top salaried man in the sport with a contract of $100,000 per year. However, some of Williams' pay hinges on a bonus arrangement.

Dropo Paces White Sox to Top Of American Standings Again

By MILTON RICHMAN

The White Sox have tried everyone at first base but the batboy, so maybe it's only poetic justice that they're back on top again because of a guy who feels he feels he should have been given the job in the first place.

His name is Walt Dropo, and chances are you've heard of him because they were comparing him with Jimmie Fox and Hank Greenberg when he first arrived in the majors way back in 1949.

Somehow he never quite made it "big," however, and with the White Sox he was low man on the totem pole among three other first basemen this spring. But Tuesday night it was his two-run homer in the seventh inning that broke up a scoreless pitching duel between Bob Keegan and Dave Sisler and gave the White Sox a 2-1 victory over the Red Sox that enabled them to take over the American League lead again from the Yankees by half a game.

In a way, it was vindication for the 6-foot-5 Dropo, who has been forced to sit around this season while Jim Rivera, Dave Philley and Earl Torgeson were given a shot at the first base job. The home run was his ninth of the season, one more than he hit all last year.

Bosox Streak Snapped

Keegan held the Red Sox to six hits in snapping their six - game winning streak.

Cleveland registered its fourth victory in a row by crushing the Yankees, 11-2; Baltimore handed Kansas City its sixth straight defeat, 5-0, and Detroit rallied for three runs in the 10th inning to defeat Washington, 7-4.

Cincinnati climbed into a virtual tie for the National League lead with the idle Cardinals by beating the Giants, 3-2; Brooklyn blanded Milwaukee, 2-0, and Chicago climbed out of the cellar with a 5-3 triumph over Pittsburgh.

Southpaw Don Mossi checked the Yankees on eight hits while his teammates collected 12, including a two-run homer by Russ Nixon and a grand slam wallop by Rocky Colavito. Mossi held the Yanks at bay in every inning but the second when Andy Carey hit a two-run homer. Tom Sturdivant was the loser.

Ex - Dodger Billy Loes came through with a brilliant three-hit effort for the Orioles, retiring the first 16 batters in order. It was Loes' eighth victory against three defeats. Bob Boyd raised his batting average to .350 with three hits for Baltimore.

Reliever Harry Byrd, just brought up from the minors, was credited with the Tigers' victory when they hammered Tru Clevenger for three runs in the 10th. Bill Tuttle drove in the tie-breaking run. Teammate Charlie Maxwell hit two homers.

Klu Spells Difference

Ted Kluszewski's pinch single off Red Worthington with the bases full and two out in the ninth boosted the Redlegs to within five percentage points of the Cardinals. Brooks Lawrence gave up only four hits, including a homer to Danny O'Connell, in registering his eighth victory. Until the ninth, Cincinnati's only two runs off Giant starter Ray Crone were the result of home runs by Smoky Burgess in the second inning and the fourth.

Duke Snider's 15th homer in the first inning was all the margin rookie Danny McDevitt of the Dodgers needed to beat Lew Burdette. Both pitchers gave up only four hits, the Dodgers adding an insurance run in the ninth on Snider's single, Johnny Logan's error and a single by Gino Cimoli.

Jack Littrell's two-run homer in the second inning put the Cubs in front of the Pirates to stay and Dale Long and Walt Moryn followed with circuit blows for Chicago. All three homers came at the expense of Bob Friend, who suffered his seventh defeat. Reliever Dave Hillman was the winning pitcher as the Cubs took over seventh place by eight percentage points over the Pirates.

Milwaukee Wants Moore Title Bout

CHICAGO (UP) — Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore can receive a $100,000 guarantee to defend his title in Milwaukee in late August or early September against German Hans Stretz, promoter Irving Schoenwald said today.

Schoenwald said he and co-promoter Phil Valley of Milwaukee would stage the show, either in Milwaukee County Stadium of the Milwaukee Arena, with the gurantee furnished by a group of Milwaukee businessmen.

The Celtic languages are spoken by about three and one half million persons.

U. S. in Nuclear Shift to Peace

WASHINGTON (UP)—American disarmament strategy envisages token transfers of fissionable materials from military stockpiles to peaceful uses about a year after an initial East-West arms agreement is reached.

Officials said today the war-to-peace shift would begin on a trial basis that would not harm American-allied nuclear capability. But they said a workable East-West arms agreement could, over a period of years, result in a complete transfer of fissionable materials from military to peaceful uses.

Proposals to shift fissionable materials are the least known part of the forthcoming American plan for a first stage disarmament agreement with Russia. The plan is now being unfolded at the London arms conference by U S. delegate Harold E. Stassen.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles left no doubt at his news conference Tuesday the American plan for suspending nuclear tests is tied to an agreement to halt manufacture of military nuclear materials, but Dulles acknowledged the "actual suspension" of testing might precede a halt in nuclear production. He said it would be easier to develop a supervision plan on the basis of a test suspension.

Dulles noted the question of timing resulted in some "confusion" at Eisenhower's news conference last week. The President at that time hinted the United States might agree to suspend nuclear tests without demanding a parallel agreement on fissionable materials. The White House sought later to correct this impression.

Man Kills Ex-Wife And Son

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., (UP)—Mrs. Dorothy Whitaker, whose husband shot and killed his ex-wife and son, said today she would stand by her wife - swapping husband because he was "fighting for what he thought was right."

Thomas Whitaker, 39, a truck driver, went on berserk shooting rampage Tuesday after brooding for two days over the "grief" he suffered in the wife trade.

He fought a gun duel with his wife's husband, Stewart Martin, 40, in the early morning darkness, crippling him with a shotgun blast in the leg.

Uses Shotgun

Then he battered his way into Martin's luxurious suburban home to wipe out the woman and child he once loved. He killed his former wife, Mrs. Alma Martin, 36, and her son, Jack Whitaker, 11, with the double-barreled shotgun.

He then shot and seriously wounded his daughter, Regina, 9, as she pleaded for her life.

Whitaker, held in Vigo County Jail under $50,000 bond on a first degree murder warrant, showed no remorse over his killing spree.

In a signed statement to Chief Deputy Prosecutor John Kessler, Whitaker was quoted as saying the wife - swapping caused him "lots of grief" because he couldn't see his children often enough.

Wife Promises Support

Mrs. Whitaker told United Press she "definitely" would stand by her husband. She described him as a mild-mannered man who was driven to murder in his fight for what he thought was right.

Whitaker surrendered Tuesday about 12 hours after the shooting. He said he had spent the time hiding along the Wabash River bottomlands and meditating about the double slaying.

Martin, a wealthy commercial photographer, and Whitaker became close friends several years ago as fellow members of the local Elks club. The couples spent many evenings together and last year decided to trade wives.

Mrs Whitaker was awarded a divorce Aug. 18, 1956, and the ex-Mrs Martin won a divorce Dec. 12, 1956. Both wives charged cruelty and neither divorce was contested.

Federal School Aid Supporters Disappointed with Ike's Action

WASHINGTON (UP)—Advocates of federal school aid were disappointed today by President Eisenhower's lukewarm approval of a compromise measure to meet the critical classroom shortage.

They said the President's position, expressed in a letter to Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen Jr. (R-N.J.), by no means guarantees passage of the bill. They had hoped the President would unite liberal Democrats and Eisenhower Republicans behind the compromise.

Eisenhower said it is urgent for Congress to act this year to meet the shortage of classrooms across the nation. But he gave only partial approval to the compromise school aid bill calling for federal outlays of $1,500,000,000 during the next five years.

He said the measure follows principles "which I consider basic to sound federal legislation on this subject." But he declined to "pass judgment on all details of this bill while it is still before Congress."

The compromise would authorize federal expenditure of 300 million dollars annually for five years. Half would be allocated to states on the basis of need and half on the basis of school population.

The President originally sought 325 million dollars in each of the next four years with the money to be distributed solely on the basis of need. Democrats wanted a six-year program of 600 million dollars annually with states matching the money dollar for dollar.

Other congressional news:

Cotton: Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson turned thumbs down on rival plans of southern congressmen to increase government price guarantees for cotton growers. Both involved two-price plans to give growers a much higher return for their proportionate share of cotton consumed domestically and a lower return for cotton sold abroad. Benson objected that payments, under present market conditions, would cost about $382,500,000 a year.

Money: Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.), promising friendly questioning for Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey, defended the administration's tight money policies. He said "stable currency" is more important to Americans than savings in interest charges. Humphrey was summoned for a sixth day of testimony in the Senate Finance Committee's study of government economic and money policies. Until now he has faced ripping attacks from critical Democrats.

Bricker: Chances appeared dim for Senate action on the Bricker Amendment to limit effectiveness of treaties as domestic law. The Senate Judiciary subcommittee scheduled no further public hearings on the latest version of the controversial proposal by Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) and informed sources said little action is expected at this session of Congress. But Senate action could be spurred if public interest is aroused by the case of Army Specialist 3c William S Girard, the GI the administration wants to hand over to Japan for trial in the death of a Japanese woman.

Boy Arrested As Suspect in Hoxsey Extortion

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (UP)—Postal inspectors have arrested a 15-year-old boy who sent extortion letters to the Central Hotel and the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic, both at Portage.

Inspectors C. R. Murray and J. J. Kelly, of Altoona, said the boy, a resident of the Lilly area, could give no reason for his action. The boy was detained in the Cambria County Detention Home pending action by Juvenile Court.

The letters, mailed June 17, demanded $100 from the hotel and the clinic on the threat of public disclosure of derogatory information. They were not mailed to any particular person at the two establishments.

The money was to have been left in a bag along a highway on June 17. A trap was set and the drop was made, but the boy became frightened and ran into a nearby woods.

He lost both shoes while running in the dense woods. The shoes subsequently led to his arrest.

Woman Dies at The Age of 116

CANOGA PARK, Calif. (UP)—Mrs. Juanita Carrillo, who had only been seriously ill once in her life, died here Tuesday at the age of 116.

Mrs. Carrillo's son, Juan Carrillo 63, said his mother collapsed and died after asking for a drink of water.

She left 15 grandchildren and 45 great-grandchildren.

Schools Approve Vote

HARRISBURG (UP)—Pennsylvania's 2,440 school districts have indirectly approved the proposed integration of the state School Employes Retirement system with social security on which school employes will ballot in August.

Paul C. Moomaw, executive director of the Bureau of Social Security for Public Employes, said today that "far less" than 40 per cent of Pennsylvania's school boards have filed objections to the proposed merger of state and federal pension systems. If 40 per cent had objected, the referendum, by law, could not have been held.

Moomaw said the exact number of school boards taking exception to the proposed integration will be disclosed "within the next few days." He said about a week will be required to determine exactly how many school and other state employes have expressed a preference to have the systems integrated so they can come under federal social security.

Only those school and state employes who submitted signed statements expressing a desire to be included in social security coverage will ballot in August. Conceivably, 87,000 school employes and 65,000 state workers, members of the State Employes Retirement Fund, would be eligible for the combined coverage of state and federal systems.

Moomaw said the count on the preference statement was delayed because many of the workers failed to fill out correctly the official forms sent them. Many, he said, also failed to sign the statements as required by law.

Taxing of whisky began with the passage of an excise law in 1791.

Additional Plans Made At Twp. Fair Meeting

Additional plans for the Rostraver Twp. Fair to be held Aug. 27-29 were discussed at a meeting of the Fair Committee Monday.

William Smith, chairman, presided and reports were given by Mary Bush, secretary, and Fred Herman, treasurer.

It was announced that anyone living in the township is welcome to participate in the Fair.

Premium values will be raised this year, it was stated. The premium booklets are being made up by Rose Ridgeway and Freda Smith. Solicitors for the books are requested to turn in any ads as soon as possible to the above named persons.

Special awards this year will be as follows:

Home economics in charge of Mary Worrell — canned produce, one quart of mixed vegetables, one-half dozen of pineapple filled cookies and one work apron; flowers, Linda Cinerski — most artistic arrangement of flowers; farm produce, James Patterson — most original arrangement; and entertainment, Charles Quinn.

On the first night one of the highlights will be the crowning of the Rostraver Fair queen. This event is being sponsored by Band Parents. All girls from 9th to 12th grades in Rostraver schools are eligible. Those interested are requested to be at Rostraver Junior High School Monday, July 1, at 7:30 p. m. for instructions.

The Weblo Den will meet at Fells Methodist Church tonight. Tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. there will be an executive business meeting and at 8 p. m. an official board meeting. Friday the Cub Scouts will meet at the West Newton Lions field.

Teacher Delegate

Mrs. Freda Smith will leave Friday for a 10-day vacation in Philadelphia. While there, she will act as a delegate from the Rostraver Twp. Teachers Association to the National Education Association convention. She will be accompanied by Helen Beatty and Hazel Welch, Charleroi instructors.

The Youth Fellowship of Webster Methodist Church held a swimming party at Redd's Beach Saturday.

Mrs. J. Nelson Jackaway was called to the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Clara Mentz, who is critically ill in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Easton, of Meadville, visited over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Beecher Gibbs, of R. D., Belle Vernon.

Mrs. Rose Ridgeway, of R. D., Belle Vernon, has returned home after being a patient in Passavant Hospital, Pittsburgh.

Raymond Cathers has returned to his home in the Sweeney Plan after spending three weeks with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cathers, of Monessen. While in Monessen, he attended the Christian Church Daily Vacation Bible School.

Mrs. Dorothy Gilland, of Pittsburgh, spent the weekend at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Cathers, of Sweeney Plan.

Farewell Party for Allshouse Family

Capt. and Mrs. H. Dale Allshouse were honored at a farewell party by the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Allshouse, former R. D., Belle Vernon residents now residing in Scottdale. Guests were present from Pittsburgh, Belle Vernon, Somerset, Fayette City, Donora and Scottdale.

The captain and his wife and their four children will leave soon for England, where he will be on a three-year tour of duty with the Air Force. He formerly was stationed in Arizona.

Hungarian Ladies Have Card Party

The Hungarian Ladies Auxiliary held a regular weekly card party Monday with first prize in 500 going to Mary Pupelli and second prize to Stella Kerekes.

Euchre winners were Virginia Layton, first, and Dolores Nescot. Other prizes were won by Anna Thot and Lena Hollander.

Ethel Donley was chairman assisted by Christine and Donna Evans and Helen Galayda. Another party will be held at 8 p. m. Monday. The public is invited.

Mrs. Freda Smith Visits With Two Sons

Mrs. Freda Smith visited last week with her son, M-Sgt. Wayne R. Smith, of Pittsburgh. She also visited with another son, C. Donald Smith, a former industrial arts teacher at Connellsville and now associated with the Westinghouse Atomic plant in Mifflin Twp.

Donald, with his wife, the former Thelma Wright, of Fellsburg, and daughter, Vivian, just recently returned from Germany.

Davis Appeal Is Made for New Murder Trial

KITTANNING, Pa. (UP) — Defense attorneys sought today to have set aside the first degree murder conviction of Robert T. Davis, who faces death in the electric chair for the bludgeon slaying of a Leechburg housewife.

The attorneys have asked Armstrong County Judge J. Frank Graff to grant a new trial for the Pittsburgh ex-convict on grounds that the verdict returned by a jury here last Friday was contrary to the evidence.

The lawyers also asked for arrest of judgment on the verdict, which recommended the death penalty, and discharge of the defendant for lack of evidence.

Davis in a statement to state police admitted following Mrs. Emily S. Foster, 25, an expectant mother, home from a bingo game last Jan. 30 and striking her down with a tire iron on her doorstep to steal her purse. During his trial he repudiated the confession saying he signed it only because he had been promised less severe treatment.

Reduction to Cut Services

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—A state official today charged the 2..6 per cent reduction made in her department's budget requests by the Republican-controlled 1957 Legislature would force curtailment of "services which the General Assembly itself, at earlier sessions, ordered performed."

Genevieve Blatt, head of the Internal Affairs Department, told the 46th annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Association of Boroughs she planned to "spare no effort" in helping elect members of the 1959 Legislature "who will be more responsive to the needs of the state and local governments."

Miss Blatt said adequate money would have enabled her to carry out the department's functions better, but added "I intend to do as well as I can, even with inadequate funds."

MONESSEN PICNIC JULY 30—Newest in thrill rides is the "Round-Up", which has been added to the many amusements at Kennywood Park, the scene of Monessen's annual Community Picnic on Tuesday, July 30. This newly developed ride is billed as the "world's greatest thrill sensation". It is a cylindrical device that accommodates riders in niches around its perimeter. They stand throughout the ride, which begins rotating while level. Then the ride tilts upwards and continues to spin.

McClellan Knew of Hoffa 'Spies'

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman John J. L. McClellan of the Senate Rackets Committee disclosed today he has known for some time that Teamster Vice President James R. Hoffa claimed to have several "spies" in the Senate.

But McClellan refused to discuss the matter or to say whether his committee has uncovered any evidence of such spies.

"I won't make any public statement on it at present," the Arkansas Democrat told the United Press.

John Cye Cheasty, the government's star witness in the bribery trial of Hoffa, testified Tuesday the Teamster official promised him $18,000 to get a job on McClellan's committee staff and "feed" Hoffa information to enable him to prepare Teamster leaders for questioning. Cheasty returns to the stand today.

Cheasty, who tipped off the committee and FBI about Hoffa's offer, said the Teamster official claimed to have "triple coverage" of the committee's activities.

He said Hoffa mentioned "a fellow" in the office of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), committee member who since has died. Cheasty added "I didn't get the name." Defense attorneys for Hoffa told reporters Cheasty had given the Senate committee the name of a non-existent person on McCarthy's staff.

Cheasty said the third so-called Hoffa "spy" was described to him only as "a girl on the hill." He said this information was volunteered by Hyman I. Fischbach, a Miami, Fla., attorney who is a co-defendant with Hoffa in the bribery-conspiracy trial.

Former State Policeman Knew All the Angles

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Norman W. Nist's training as a state policeman served him well when he found himself the recipient rather than the donor of a speeding ticket.

Brought before County Court Judge John G. Brosky, Nist, a former trooper of West Mifflin, declared:

"I move that this charge against me be dismissed. The information is faulty, in that it was not signed by my accuser, the state policeman who made the arrest."

Judge Brosky examined the document and sure enough, the name of arresting officer, Sgt. Henry C. Fagley, was typewritten and there was no signature.

"While this is but a technicality, under the law the court has no alternative but to grant your request and dismiss the charge," the judge ruled and the grinning ex-trooper walked out.

Donna Evans At Assembly

Donna Mae Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Evans, will be among the more than 1,800 Presbyterian young people who will attend the national youth assembly at Grinnell College in Iowa from today until July 3.

Every part of the United States, as well as several foreign countries, will send delegates to the convention, the fourth Westminster Fellowship national assembly.

The assembly, which will be geared to the concerns of high school youth, will include "Talk it Over" sessions on several subjects of interest to the young people. Workshops relating to Westminster Fellowship activities will be conducted. Outstanding Presbyterian churchmen will be included among the speakers.

Joint Meeting

A joint meeting of the Women's Missionary Society and the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian Church will be held this evening at 8 p. m. in the church school room. This meeting is the one originally scheduled for June 19.

Mrs. J. A. Hooker and children Judith Ann and Johnny Jr., of Gadsden, Alabama, are visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Moody, of West Side.

Mrs. H. Jackson Stearns and son Gary, of Fairfield, Conn., are visitors in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Streicher, of Fifth St.

Annual School Census Is Taken

The annual census for the West Newton Board of Education is now being conducted by five West Newton teachers. The census, which was started last week will be completed on Friday.

The following teachers are making the enrollment: Mary Cumpson, Miss Ethel Neff, Mrs. Evelyn Leeper, Mrs. Helen Boyer and Mrs. Ruth Rupert.

Society to Meet

The Lutie Monath Missionary Society of Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church will hold its regular monthly meeting tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. Paul Ehrler, near Scott Haven.

William Simon, a member of the West Newton Fire Company, recently attended a radiological defense course for instructors in Butler, Pa.

Simon will conduct radiological course classes in this county and will be available to clubs and other organizations for talks on radioactive fallout. These talks, with which a film strip is used, cover fire, decontamination exercises and home protection methods.

Kiwanis Delegates Told to Practice Home Democracy

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UP) — The best way for free nations to cope with the problems of awakening Asia is to practice democracy at home and abroad, delegates to the 42nd annual Kiwanis International Convention were told Tuesday.

Justice Samuel Freedman, of Winnipeg, Canada, said the "awakening of the East" and the emergence of the United States as leader of the free world has caused a shift in the "center of gravity in the political world."

The Canadian jurist said one of the greatest problems facing western democracy is applying social controls without infringing on personal freedom.

"Unrestricted activity of the individual is quite likely to bring distress today," Freedman said. "Now we need a measure of social control without infringing on basic personal freedoms."

The jurist admonished Americans to "beware of nervous reactions to minor challenges and bring greater recognition to the individual's rights and freedom of dissent."

Freedman added that the history of great men shows that all important ideas originated in a "minority of one."

HOW 14,000 FARM PEOPLE ARE KILLED EVERY YEAR

FIRST: Machinery. Most victims between 55 and 59.
SECOND: Drownings. Most victims children under 5.
THIRD: Firearms. Most victims between 15 and 19.
FOURTH: Falls. Most frequent among older people.
FIFTH: Animals. Victims mostly the older people.
SIXTH: Burns. Most victims are children under 5.

THE AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT listed (in order) these top six accidental killers of farm people with a report that accidents claimed an average of 14,000 farm lives a year in the 1950-55 period. The report cited unsafe practices "that could be corrected."

State to Paint Traffic Lines

About 9,000 miles of traffic line on 14,000 miles of highway are being painted by Department of Highways maintenance crews this summer, Secretary Joseph J. Lawler has announced.

The four-inch wide white lines are valuable guides to motorists both during the day and at night and especially on black-topped roads where the dividing joint, common to concrete highways, is missing.

The Department will purchase 163,890 gallons of taffic line paint and 989,250 pounds of glass spheres for the annual chore which will continue through the summer and early fall when the weather is good for drying paint.

Traffic lines are re-painted when wear makes it advisable. It is not necessary to paint all the lines every year.

Because passing zones are marked with broken lines and some stretches of secondary roads have lines only where needed to mark "no passing" zones, the amount of roadway covered exceeds the length of line painted.

Glass spheres, called beads, are used to increase the visibility of the lines through reflection. The Department estimates it will use 17 gallons of paint a mile and six pounds of beads to the gallon of paint.

Total cost of the line painting job this year is estimated at $460,000, of which $358,000 is for materials and $102,000 for application.

Average speed of the truck-mounted paint machine is six to seven miles an hour. These machines are automatic. They spray a four-inch wide band, and the beads are applied to the wet paint immediately. The bead placing device is mounted on the truck near the paint sprayer.

Both paint and beads are subjected to thorough testing at the Department's laboratory in Harrisburg. Samples of paint and beads are taken at random from the delivered batches.

There is one truck-mounted paint machine in each of the Department's 11 districts, and each county has a hand-operated painting machine for painting crosswalks and other small markings.

A small truck from which workers place flags, warning that lines have been painted follows the large truck containing the painting gear. A State Police car precedes the two trucks and another follows to make it safe for the maintenance men to do their jobs.

The usual crew is composed of 13 men and three trucks. The third vehicle carries paint and flags.

During 1956 maintenance crews painted 8,953.9 miles of line at a cost of $458,282.85.

Angry Bird in Attack on Car

DARWIN, Australia, (UP) — Three matronly women escaped serious injury Tuesday when an angry, seven-foot-tall emu attacked their speeding motorcar.

The car was damaged extensively, and although the women were unhurt, the driver, Mrs. Toby Brown, 68, said they emerged from the vehicle quaking.

"We were terrified when the huge landbird charged the car, which was traveling 40 miles an hour, and battered the panelling," she said.

"He tried to smash the windows but only succeeded in denting the fenders and roof. I was forced to accelerate to 60 miles an hour to escape.

Reds Admit Foreign Cars for First Time

MOSCOW (UP) —The Soviet Union this summer is permitting foreigners for the first time to bring their own automobiles into the country and spend a holiday crossing the Russian nation.

Not many Americans are expected to take up the offer but those who do will find an interesting contrast with the American road network of billboards, motels and speed traps.

Vast as this country is, there is no chance of the visitor getting lost. For one thing, he must stick to one of the two trunk highways. To make sure he does, an Intourist Agency guide will join him at the frontier and accompany him throughout the trip.

Repair Shops Available

The highways especially the north-south route from Moscow to the Black Sea—are excellent by Russian standards and, in most places, good by European ones. They are three and sometimes four-lane roads with long stretches where you can put your foot to the floorboard.

Gas stations, repair shops, snack bars and restaurants are to be found about every 100 miles. Hotels are spaced at reasonable distances and built right out on the highways in the remote Steppes.

Traffic is very light, consisting mostly of trucks and buses. There are no hitchhikers. When Russians travel, and they love to, they usually go by train. Few have private cars.

Whenever the foreign tourist stops in a village or small town, he will be surrounded by wide-eyed onlookers including knowledgeable young men commenting on the mechanical features of his auto.

Driving Rules Simple

Rules for driving are simple:

1. Stay on the right hand side.
2. Highway and traffic signs are pretty much the same as in Western Europe. One difference is that you can turn right on a red light.
3. Drivers must keep their cars clean. If a policeman spots a dirty, muddy car, he has the right to stop it and fine the occupants.
4. The speed limit in a city is 35 mph. On the open road it is unlimited.

Should you run out of gas between filling stations, put an empty can on top of your car. The next truck that comes by will know your trouble and offer to sell you some of his gas—at a profit.

Parents Drown In Attempt to Save Daughter

CHIPPAWA, Ont. (UP)—Eleven-year-old Anita Leary decided today to return to England to help erase from her mind the scene at Chippawa Creek where her parents drowned trying to rescue her.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Leary, will be buried today. But Anita, mutely grief-stricken, shook her head "No" when asked if she wished to view their bodies.

Anita fell into 20 feet of water Sunday while at a picnic along the banks of the Chippawa with her parents and her aunt and uncle. Her parents both jumped in to save her. They drowned in the attempt.

Her uncle, Robert Goodwin, managed to pull Anita to safety. He also rescued, his wife, Marie, who had encountered difficulty trying to help Anita.

Matter of Opinion, Actress Discovers

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Jean Seberg, 18-year-old Iowan who portrays Joan of Arc in "Saint Joan," said she told a Paris press conference that her only theatrically inclined relative was a grandmother, Fanny Benson, who wanted to be a circus bare-back rider.

Miss Seberg said one French paper stated, "her grandmother wanted to ride a bear." Another said, "her grandmother wanted to ride bare."

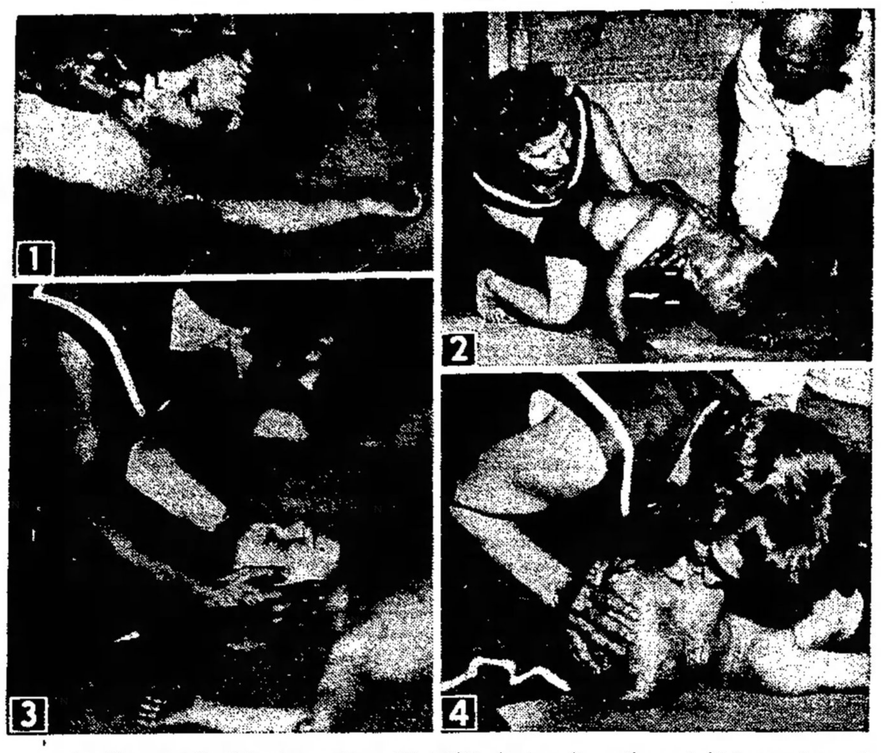
RED CROSS TELLS HOW TO SAVE CHILD'S LIFE



Step 1. Clear mouth of foreign matter with middle finger. Same finger, hold tongue forward.
Step 2. Place child in face-down, head-down position and pat firmly on back with free hand. This should dislodge any foreign object in air passage.
Step 3. Place child on back and use middle fingers of both hands to lift lower jaw from beneath and behind so that it "juts" out. Hold jaw in this position with one hand and go on to . . .
Step 4. Place mouth over child's mouth and nose, making a leakproof seal, and breathe into the child with a smooth, steady action until you observe child's chest rising. As you start this action, move free hand to child's abdomen, between navel and ribs, and apply continuous, moderate pressure to prevent the stomach from filling with air. When lungs have been inflated remove lips from child's mouth and nose and allow his lungs to empty. Repeat breathing and pressure cycle at 20 cycles per minute.

MR. AND MRS. Ralph E. Gode and son David, 3, demontrate the Red Cross' 1957 version of a centuries-old method of artificial respiration. It is recommended for resuscitation of infants and small children. Gode is the New York Red Cross chapter's first aid instructor (International)

Pilots in New Guinea Can Never Get Bored

LAE, New Guinea (UP) — To get anywhere on this world's biggest island you either fly or you walk.

In either case the terrain is as rugged as Alaska, with jagged 15,000-foot peaks, and the weather is as mean as any in South America, with violent tropical storms, sudden fronts and towering thunderheads.

New Guinea, like Alaska, has produced a breed of bush pilots with the unique skill of angling through mountain passes, slipping in and out of narrow, mile-high valleys and maintaining a regular schedule with a most impressive safety record.

Qantas, the Australian-owned airline that serves the New Guinea area, demands one basic requirement from all its pilots — resourcefulness.

Here they describe resourcefulness as the time the landing gear failed to lock as a light plane was landing. The Qantas pilot casually cut a hole in the floor and jammed a steel curtain rod down as a substitute strut and made a normal landing.

Douglas DC3's and Canadian-built Beavers are used by Qantas on the internal runs, while prewar Catalinas from San Diego maintain the "beer and bread" services to the outlying islands and coastal plantations.

The pilots on the flying boats are as familiar as rural mailmen as they deliver groceries, match sewing threads and post letters for the scattered European families who are weeks removed from civilization except by air.

Passengers are Qantas' most precious cargo, but the money is made on the freight. In 1932 when gold was discovered in the Bulolo Valley, more freight was carried in one month in New Guinea than by all the rest of the world's airlines combined for the entire year.

Today Qantas will haul anything from needles to prefabricated houses, and moves an average of more than a million pounds of freight a month in, out and around New Guinea. Recently an entire tea-processing plant was flown into the interior piece by piece to be assembled and put into operation.

The majority of Qantas' senior New Guinea pilots could qualify for international flights, but they prefer to fly here. As veteran pilot Tom Howse explained it:

"In New Guinea you never get bored. Each flight has a variety of interesting situations, both inside and outside the aircraft, that seldom crop up on one of the overseas routes.

'Atomic' Toy Train

Iron Age Predicts Steel Boost

NEW YORK (UP)—Iron Age predicted today that a strong fourth quarter demand will boost steel production this year close to the record 117 million tons turned out in 1955.

The magazine said 1957 output will exceed last year's 115 million tons.

The national metalworking weekly said steel output probably will hit its low point of the year in July. However, it said the summer let-down in steel "may not be so sharp as had been feared."

With auto companies "showing tentative signs of life," the magazine said, some mills are taking a more optimistic view of July. "At least one mill reports a pick-up in auto orders heavy enough to strengthen July operating schedules."

Further support this summer is expected from construction, petroleum, shipbuilding and freight cars — all users of heavier steel products. Iron Age said the big push from the auto makers will be felt in late August.

Iron Age said production will begin rebounding from the July low in August and "steel men are warning their customers that the market will tighten considerably by October and remain firm through the fourth quarter."

Another bright spot is the indication that the farmer "is beginning to loosen the purse strings" with respect to farm machinery, the publication noted.

An Iron Age survey placed farm equipment sales for 1957 at $1,100,000,000, a gain of 12 per cent over 1956. Higher prices will account for part of the increase, it added.

Calls Police to Report Own Suicide

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., (UP) "I want to report a suicide," police were told by a caller.

Then the man gave an address and told the cops to just walk in, the door would be unlocked.

Officers followed went to the address and found the body of Eugene Begue, 68, who had made the call, then shot himself in the head. He also had left a note giving instructions for his funeral and for disposition of his estate.

To Take Part In CD Alert

John Wilkinson has announced that North Belle Vernon is making plans to join with the rest of Westmoreland County in a civilian defense signal test in July. Wilkinson is in charge of the local program.

On July 8th and 9th an air raid warning will be sounded at 7:15 p. m. and all residents will be asked to cooperate in following the regulations until the "all clear" is sounded at 7:30.

The same program will be carried out on both nights and then the real test will be carried through in a similar manner on July 12. The time for this signal has not been announced.

Good Fellowship Group in Surprise Party on Monday

The Good Fellowship Group of the First Methodist Church met on Monday evening in the church social rooms with the president, Mrs. John P. Kimball, in charge. The dinner was arranged as a "surprise" social affair and there was no business session.

The occasion marked a special celebration of three wedding anniversaries. Mr. and Mrs. David Clark, who now live in St. Petersburg, Fla., and are here on vacation, were celebrating their 42nd anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. John P. Kimball, of Broad Ave., marked their 51st anniversary and Mr. and Mrs. George Boston celebrated the golden anniversary of their marriage.

Three wedding cakes were given by Mrs. Lillian Reeves, Mrs. Marie Bowell and Mrs. Hilda Como and these decorated the dinner table.

The Fellowship was honored with having as guests, the near relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Boston, a son Ross O. Boston and his wife, Margaret and two children, Paul and Donice; a daughter, Mrs. Hilda Como and her husband, Ernest and their son. Ross with his wife, Shirley and their daughter, Sandra.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Kimball had as their guests, Mrs. Kimball's brother, Harry S. Robinson and their son, Howard S. Kimball and his wife, Hazel and their daughter, Ocie and their niece, Rosella Kimball.

A program was presented with vocal selections by June Boyce, who chose, "I Believe" and "Perfect Day" as her numbers. She was accompanied at the piano by Ross Boston. A vocal solo and a whistling selection was presented by Mrs. Rosella Kimball, who chose, "Tenderly He Watches Over You". Harry S. Robinson read cards sent by President Eisenhower and Mrs. Eisenhower congratulating the Kimballs on their anniversary.

Mrs. Marie Bowell introduced Merlyn Zimmerman, of Bell Telephone Co., who presented two moving pictures, "The World" and "The New Bride and Groom".

The Rev. William H. Schatz, church pastor, conducted the devotions and paid tribute to those observing their anniversaries.

Two baskets of flowers were sent to the couples and Mr. and Mrs. Boston were presented with a tea set in gold by the Fellowship. Mr. Kimball made the presentation. Pictures of the three honored couples were taken.

Ladies Auxiliary In Card Party

The Ladies Auxiliary to Belle Vernon American Legion Post 659 will sponsor another in the series of Thursday evening card parties tomorrow in the Legion Home.

Mrs. Mary Bashada will be chairman of the committee in charge.

The auxiliary planned a special card party on July 11 with all proceeds being given to the Salvation Army building fund. Ann Lucas will be the chairman.

Local Officer At Installation

Mrs. John McCauley, who was newly installed as Grand Regent of Belle Vernon Court Catholic Daughters of America and Past Grand Regent Mrs. Thomas Abbott recently attended installation ceremonies held by Charleroi Court of the C. D. of A.

The ceremonies were held in the St. Jerome Church Lyceum and Mrs. George Humphries was installed Grand Regent.

Mrs. Mary McGinty, of Monongahela, was the installing officer.

After the installation ritual there was an installation party and representatives were present from a number of district courts.

Marine Sgt. Charles Beazell returned home from Japan after serving there for the past year. He visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Beazell, of Main St., for the past week and is reporting today at Philadelphia. He will be discharged on July 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Barron and children, of Fairhope, left for a motor trip to California state. While on the west coast they plan to visit their nephew, Ronald Toth, who is stationed with the U. S. Air Force there.

Washington Twp. Auxiliary Meets; Discusses Plans

Reports on various activities were given on Monday evening when the Ladies Auxiliary to the Washington Township Volunteer Fire Co. met in the fire hall. The president, Mrs. Honor Hamer, presided and the meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance.

It was reported that Mrs. Lorena Godissart, a member suffered a fall in the kitchen of her home and that the chaplain, Mrs. Edna Axton, was still confined to Mercy Hospital after a lengthy illness.

The ways and means committee reported that they had conducted another successful party last week and then gave a report on the three months of activity under their direction.

Plans were made to parade in Monongahela last night and in Youngwood, on Friday night.

Appointed as hostesses for the first meeting in July were Loretta Hutchison and Connie Carr.

The June birthday of Sally Richie was observed and luncheon was served by the hostesses, Marion Harris and Gladys Kelly.

Return Home After Visiting Mayflower

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bolger and children, Edward, Robert, Ellen and Thomas have returned to their home in Fairhope after a five day trip to Plymouth, Mass., where they viewed the replica of the Mayflower, which recently arrived from England.

At Boston they visited with Mr. Bolger's sisters, Mrs. Edward Mahoney and Mrs. Charles Read and their families. Enroute home they visited another sister, Mrs. Pat Cullen, of Ray Ridge, N. Y. and a brother, Ronald in South Brooklyn.

Mrs. Albert Franceschi and daughter, Pattie, of Grant St., left Sunday for Philadelphia for an extended visit with her mother, Mrs. Tillie Lekic.

Mrs. Paul Andrews, of Belle Vernon R. D. 1, is a patient in the Monongahela Memorial Hospital, suffering a severe hand laceration which required surgery.

Darlene Soltis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Soltis, is undergoing medical treatment at the Monongahela Memorial Hospital.

Fire Co. Auxiliary Meets; Hears Report on Carnival

Mrs. Rose Beazell, chaplain, was in charge of the opening service when the Ladies Auxiliary to Belle Vernon Fire Co. No. 2 met Monday evening in the fire hall. The group joined in the pledge, prayer and singing of "America". President Mrs. Dorothy Wendell was in charge and there were 32 members present.

Mrs. Nellie Lambert won the special prize and Mrs. Olive Palfrey won the auxiliary prize.

Carol Davenport gave a complete report on the carnival held recently on Second St.

A donation was voted to the Belle Vernon Blue and Gold Cadets for their assistance at the carnival. A donation was also voted to the Salvation Army building fund.

The women also voted to assist the fire company in purchasing boots and coats to be placed on the fire truck.

The chaplain conducted the closing.

A social hour followed and prizes were won by Leonora Beazell, Rose Teano, Sue LeComte, Hazel Isenberg, Evelyn Nichols, Bertha MacDonald, Carol Davenport, Catherine Rossborough, Mary Marasco, Theresa Manzini, Harriet Neil, Gerry Curcio, Sue Horan, Nellie Lambert, Rose Beazell, Rose Checci, Gertrude Fleming and Lulu Gillen.

Birthday anniversaries were celebrated by Ethel Dunkerly and Lulu Gillen. The June committee included Alverta Fields, Ethel Dunkerly, Olive Palfrey, Angie Delzange and Ethel Venneri and they served lunch.

Firemen Meet After Getting Storm Alert

The Monday evening meeting of the North Belle Vernon Fire Co. in the fire hall followed by a few hours the first time the new land base radio system was used. The department purchased the radios several weeks ago and they were recently installed.

Monday afternoon when the storm warnings were given the system was put into use and alerted the local company for possible tornado danger.

The meeting was opened by President Vic Silvestro and then Vice President Louis Ceccarelli took charge.

The men made plans to parade in Monongahela last night and at North Charleroi. Several other parades will be scheduled during the summer months.

Pierce Johnson On Advisory Board

Pierce C. Johnson, Monessen restaurant owner, was elected to the advisory board of the Pennsylvania Restaurant Association at the 20th annual meeting held at Hotel Hershey.

Jack Roth, of Charleroi, was named to the board of directors.

Johnson is a past president of the Association.

Governor Ready to Agree with President

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (UP)—The nation's governors appeared ready today to embrace President Eisenhower's search for ways to turn federal services back to the states despite widespread doubts about how fruitful it would be.

A resolution recommending at least a first step in this search was expected to go before the final, closed session of the annual governors' conference this afternoon.

A round table discussion on natural resources preceded that session.

Eisenhower was described here as being in a "putup or shut up" mood about the proposal he unveiled in a speech before the governors Monday night. He urged them to join his administration in studying ways to give some federal functions and tax levies back to the states and suggested that the result should be an overall saving to the taxpayer.

The President will have a chance to restate his views to the Republican majority of the conference when the GOP governors visit him for lunch in the White House Thursday.

However, the resolutions committee of the conference was expected to recommend that a committee be appointed to study the President's proposal and to confer with administration officials about how it might be carried out.

While there was no apparent disposition to rebuff the President, there was widespread skepticism among the governors, particularly among Democrats, that anything would be accomplished.

About one-half of the four million, 500 thousand Boy Scouts in the world are American.

J. E. Coleman New Gas Utility Official

PITTSBURGH (UP) — J. E. Coleman, Pittsburgh, was elected vice president and general manager of Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. and two affiliated firms today.

The three firms—Manufacturers, Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Co. and Home Gas Co. — operate as part of the Columbia Gas System.

Egyptian Press Hits U. S.

CAIRO (UP) — Egypt feels it is being isolated from other Arab states by American diplomacy, and its press has made one of its strongest attacks ever against the United States.

The break between Egypt and Syria on one hand and Jordan on the other has been open.

References to Saudi Arabia being linked with the opposition "pro-Western" Arab states and their "intrigues" are beginning to appear in the Egyptian and even more in the Syrian press. They have brought a blast from the Saudi government that King Saud's stand would remain unchanged "in the face of any opposition."

Egyptian officials in private talks and the press in public blame the United States for the break-up of the four-power bloc and for parsing a "hostile" policy against Egypt.

The reports that there are secret Arab-Israeli talks on the future of the Palestine refugees which would resettle part of them in Iran and allow only a small part to return to their former homes in what now is Israel have caused a furor in the Egyptian press. Newspapers called this a plot by the United States and "pro-Western" Arab countries to sell the refugees down the river.

The pro-government Al Shaab noted that Saudi Arabia "has been mentioned as taking part" in those talks along with the Lebanon, Jordan and Iraq.

Nagy in Budapest To Await Trial

VIENNA (UP) — The Vienna newspaper Neuer Kurier reported today that Imre Nagy, the "freedom premier" of Hungary, has been returned to Budapest from his "asylum" in Romania to await a show trial.

The newspaper, quoting Warsaw diplomatic circles, said Soviet Defense Minister Marshal Georgi Zhukov tried in vain to persuade Nagy "to renounce his mistakes in public."

Nagy headed a short-lived government before the second Russian intervention in Hungary last winter.

NATIONALS NEXT FOR CHAMP

One of the tests is this tricky parallel parking.

IT'S WASHINGTON and the national contest next for Stephen Ward, new Ohio champ of the Junior Chamber of Commerce's annual Road-e-o, teen-age driving championships. He and Juanita Dundon topped more than 200 local champs at Cleveland, won $1,000 scholarships. Nationals will be in August. (International)

GSA Reports Many Projects Costing Millions

HARRISBURG (UP)—The General State Authority today reported nearly 550 projects completed or under contract at a cost of about 240 million dollars since the agency's inception in 1949.

The GSA, in a semi-annual report, listed 459 projects costing $160,232,599 completed and 89 priced at $68,741,495 now under construction.

Recently the authority began awarding contracts for new projects authorized in the 100 million dollar program adopted by the 1955 Legislature. Included are Juniata River Basin flood control projects and numerous recreational facilities at state parks. Other important items included in the new agenda are four new schools for mentally retarded children and construction of several new buildings at Pennsylvania State University.

The most imposing of the projects recently completed under authority financing are three new skyscraper office buildings—two at Harrisburg and the third at Pittsburgh.

Students Visit Courts

BEDFORD, Pa. (UP) — The chairman of the Pennsylvania Bar Assn. Committee on Public Relations reported today that more than 17,000 high school students in the state were taken on lawyer-conducted tours of county court houses during the school term just ended.

The committee head, William M. Musser Jr., Lancaster, told a session of county public relations chairmen at the summer meeting of the Pennsylvania Bar Assn. that at least 15 counties conducted regular court house tours throughout the past school year.

In 25 other counties, he said, there was some degree of activity. In some, the tours were irregular and in others the program got started late in the term.

The counties reported having full-fledged programs were:

Adams, 12 tours, 575 students; Beaver, 15 tours, 846 students; Bedford, 4 tours, 500 students; Berks 27 tours, 2,600 students; Butler 20 tours, 1,000 students; Cambria 12 tours, 700 students; Dauphin 21 tours, 1,010 students; Delaware, 44 tours, 1,700 students; Lancaster, 40 tours, 1,330 students; Lehigh 16 tours, 1,700 students; Luzerne 10 tours, 600 students; Mercer, 6 tours, 200 students; Mifflin, 13 tours, 520 students; Montgomery, 14 tours, 674 students; Philadelphia, 63 tours, 2,510 students.

The state Bar Assn. is encouraging the court house tour programs as a means of stimulating the interest of high school students in the American form of government.

Dog Food Stolen

SANTA ANA, Calif. (UP) — Thieves who broke into an Anaheim back yard were only being logical but that didn't make Charles L. Sweeden any happier. He complained to sheriff's deputies that not only did the thieves take several cases of dog food but also took his year-and-a-half-old boxer dog.

Undergoing Marine Training

A group of Washington County youths enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps at the courthouse in Washington, last Friday.

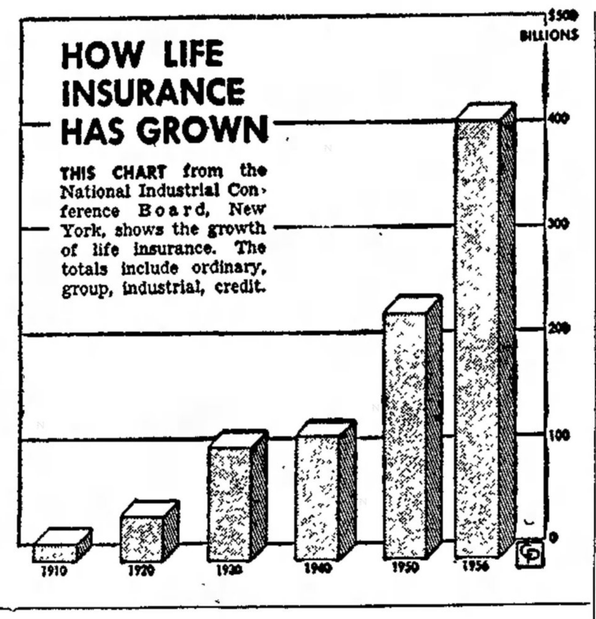
All are members of the Washington County Platoon and are presently undergoing 12 weeks of recruit training at Parris Island, S. C.

Among those enlisting were: Arthur P. Strelick, of Charleroi; James P. Huber, of Ellsworth; Anthony P. Bove, of Courtney; Robert E. Sloan, of Donora; Eugene T. Seaman II, of Monongahela; Robert M. Fedarko, of RD 2 Monongahela; Edward V. Alexander, of Venetia; and Kenneth E. Kelly, of Finleyville.

The new Marines were administered the oath of enlistment by Cpt. Albert O. Nelson, assistant officer in charge of the Recruiting Station, Pittsburgh. Mayor Thomas S. Fitch was principal speaker. State Senators William J. Lane introduced County Commissioners Francis E. Pettit and John Mazza, and Michael Hanna, district attorney. Eugene T. Seaman, II, who was chosen as platoon spokesman, received the platoon flag.

'Reel' Mystery

CHICAGO (UP)—Marie Schmidt of Naperville put some apparently fresh film in her camera and was surprised at what developed. After processing one film showed a girl in a cap and gown—but Marie has no idea who the girl was or how the film was exposed.



Accidents in Home Cause Many Deaths

Accidents in the home, which in Pennsylvania alone claim a yearly total of nearly 2,000 lives and many times that number of crippling and disabling injuries, are becoming a matter of increasing concern to the State Department of Health.

More than 40 area supervisors and consultants from the Department's Bureau of Public Health Nursing who attended a recent workshop conference on Home Accident Prevention, at Allenberry, were told that — while there has been a decline in the number of deaths due to accidents in the last 50 years — accidents have risen in rank among the leading causes of deaths from seventh in 1900 to fourth in 1955. The reason for this apparent contradiction has been the decline in mortality rates among the former leading causes of death.

Children and persons past the age of 65 are the most "accident prone," the conferees were told. Some thought and study must be directed toward the emotional factors which underline accidents. Action must be directed toward correcting faults in environment that might lead to accidents, and in teaching proper safety precautions that individuals should observe, conference speakers emphasized.

Dr. Charles L. Wilbar, Jr., Deputy Secretary of Health, told the conference that "accident prevention is a 'way of life,' and the nurse is the key person in the field of individualized teaching, needed to bring accident-causing factors to the attention of those who can and should correct them." Safety is an essential part of all teaching by the nurse and this conference reemphasized those areas upon which the nurse will place particular effort.

Miss Margaret M. Donohue, RN, Director of the State Health Department's Bureau of Public Health Nursing, pointed out that nurses can play a primary role in home accident prevention because they — of all members of the public health "team" — have most regular and ready access to the home.

Puppy Saves Nine Lives, But Loses His Own

MADERA, Calif. (UP) — His name was Rover and he was only four months old, but Mr. and Mrs. Tyree White and their seven children owe their lives to him.

At 3:30 a.m. Tuesday the Whites awoke to find their puppy, half Doberman and half German shepheard, barking furiously and pulling at the covers. They shooed him away. But Rover persisted in barking.

Then the Whites smelled smoke. They realized the house was afire.

When they began to stir, Rover darted into the children's bedroom, barking all the while to wake them up. He tugged at their bedclothes, too.

Once in the street, they heard Rover still barking inside.

But there was a note of terror in his bark. A beam had fallen across the doorway, trapping him.

Soon, Rover stopped barking. Later, they found his body inside the ruined house.

Judge to Get Softer Seat

DETROIT (UP)—The job of Probate Judge Ernest C. Boehm should be a little softer in the future.

Boehm said he's finally going to get rid of the 20-year-old broken down green chair from which he dispenses justice each day.

"The chair," says Boehm, "is worn out on the bottom and so low the attorneys can't see me behind the bench. Besides, I get stiff whenever I sit in it for any length of time."

It was used by Judges Patrick H. O'Brien and Edward Command before Boehm inherited it when he took office this year.

The Wayne County auditor listened to Boehm's story and authorized him a new chair. He should get a good one, too. He can spend up to $150 on it.

Reading Has Income Boost

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — The Reading Railroad today reported net income for the first five months was $5,049,000, or $2.77 per common share, compared with $4,616,000, or $2.46 per share during the same period of 1956.

Joseph A. Fisher, company president, said the earnings, which represented a nine per cent increase, were influenced by increased anthracite and merchandise freight revenues during the period.

Total operating revenues were $59,857,000, an increase of $1,282,000. Earnings for May were one per cent above those of May, 1956.

The company also reported that carloadings for the week ending June 22 totalled 32,579 cars compared with 33,775 for the same week one year ago, a decline of three and one half per cent.

Digits Made to Lie

CHICAGO (UP)—Detective John Alcock and Sgt. Emil Smicklass blinked when they saw a car with a license number in the eight millions. Alphonso Wright, 38, had changed truck license B-146-888 with a touch of white paint.

3 Memorials

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, John Panics, Sr., who died one year ago today, June 26, 1956.
You are not forgotten loved one,
Nor will you ever be,
As long as life and memory last
We shall remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes on we miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.

Sadly missed by Wife, Children and Grandchildren

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Paul Barna, who died one year ago, June 25, 1956.
We lost a Dad with a heart of gold
Who is more to us than wealth untold.
Without farewell he fell asleep
With only memories for us to keep.
We have lost but God has gained
One of the best fathers the world contained.
We live today with memories
Of days when you were here.
We miss you still and always will
Throughout each day and year.
At night when all is silent
And sleep forsakes our eyes
Our thoughts are in that lonely grave
Where our dear loved one lies.

Sadly missed by wife, Olga, and daughters, Marjorie and Kathy.

In loving memory of our dear husband, father, son and brother, Faunsy Altomore, who was killed on a City truck four years ago today, June 26, 1953.
Loving memories never die
As years roll on, and days pass by,
Deep in our hearts a memory is kept
Of one we loved and will never forget.
Friends may think we forgot you
When at times we seem to smile,
Little do they know our sorrow
That the smiler hide all the while.
We think of you in silence
No eyes can see us weep
But many silent tears are shed
While others are asleep
A smile, a tear, a thought sincere
How often we wish that you were here.

Sadly missed by wife, Sally, Children, Mother, Brothers and Families.

In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Mary Krcegovich, who died seven years ago today, June 26, 1950.
The rolling stream of life rolls on,
And still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile,
Of the one who once sat there
It is lonesome here without you,
And sad the weary way;
For life is not the same to us,
Since you were called away.

Sadly missed by Sons, Daughters and Families.

Ike's Plane Embarrassed

WASHINGTON (UP)—If airplane's could blush, AF7885 would be the reddest-faced Super Constellation in the U.S. Air Force today.

AF7885 is the Columbine III, President Eisenhower's plush airliner. The Columbine, easily the world's most carefully maintained airliner, developed electrical trouble at Langley Air Force Base Tuesday. The President had to shift to a far slower, sedate C54 and delay his return to Washington.

Going from the Columbine to a C54 (the military version of the commercial DC4) is roughly equivalent to getting out of a 1957 air-conditioned limousine and riding in a 1947 coupe.

Actor Sued for Alimony, Support

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Actor Cameron Mitchell, 38, has been sued for separate maintenance by Mrs. Johanna Mitchell, 40, on grounds of cruelty after 16 years of marriage.

Mrs. Mitchell Tuesday asked Superior Court for custody of the couple's four children and $2,113 a month alimony and child support.

Critical Editorial in Red Chinese Paper

By WENDELL MERICK

HONGKONG (UP) — The literature professor stood before the political discussion meeting in Peiping and said:

"The people can blow you down. They can kill Communists. The people can overthrow you."

Those words spoken openly in the capital city of Red China! Spoken by a Chinese intellectual and distributed by newspapers to the public and thence to the Western world.

Something momentous appears to be transpiring in Communist China today. Whether it is just window dressing to demonstrate that there is freedom of opinion and expression remains to be seen.

But there are indications that the Communists deliberately provoked criticism and now are fighting to keep it from getting out of hand.

A Remarkable Editorial

The June 22 issue of the party newspaper, the Peiping Peoples' Daily, has just reached here It contains a remarkable editorial declaring that there are elements within the nation who "imagine that conditions now are similar to those in Hungary on the eve of the Hungarian incident."

"The Chinese masses disagree with the critics of the Communist regime because they in overwhelming numbers support socialism," it concluded.

The editorial bears all the hallmarks of having been carefully scrutinized at the top level. The fact that it should appear at all is cause for wonder among Western observers.

The new twist began after the speech by Party Chairman Mao Tsetung last February in which he approved greater freedom of expression and criticism of the party. It was meant for artists, writers, playwrights, scientists and other "senior" intellectuals.

Out Of Control

But criticisms began to get out of control in the latter part of May as more and more outspoken critics began denouncing the party leadership.

The most severe criticism came from the literature professor at the Peiping Chinese people's university, Ko Pei-Chi. His speech was made on June 7. It was not until June 20 that the party newspapers attacked him and described his statements as "extremely harmful to socialism" and "smelling strongly of extreme right leanings."

Many TV Spectaculars Planned Next Season

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP) —You've got a front row ticket next season for such shows as "Annie Get Your Gun," 'Twelfth Night" and "Junior Miss"

Those are only three of the 75 spectaculars definitely set for the 1957-58 schedule. The specs promise to shoot some juice into a TV season that otherwise, shapes up as pretty droopy.

William Ewald

ABC-TV is the only major network not planning any spectaculars — unless you count two special one hour Frank Sinatra shows. However, NBC-TV reports 51 special programs locked up and CBS-TV is touting 22 specs.

Among its special shows, NBC-TV will offer six by Bob Hope, six by Jerry Lewis and two by Dean Martin. There are also half - a-dozen "Hallmark Hall of Fame" entries on the boards including Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night"

Cook Up One-Shots

NBC-TV also is cooking up some special one-shots like "Annie Get Your Gun" with Mary Martin," 'The Pied Piper of Hamlin" with Perry Como and "Pinocchio" with Mickey Rooney.

Along with these NBC-TV will offer a Groucho Marx number, "Time Out For Elizabeth," a "Hans Brinker" Christmas special, "Ali Baba and The 40 Thieves," and two special musicals for General Motors and Standard Oil of New Jersey.

NBC-TV also is planning a series of 16 fairy tales and according to the latest report, a Shirley Temple package (she'd host and act) is back in the running as candidate for the spot.

The major items on the CBS-TV schedule are 10 color musicals for DuPont. CBS-TV will open up the series with a variety show called "Crescendo" and it will follow up with "Junior Miss," "The Prince and The Pauper," 'The Little Prince" and an S J Perelman version of "Aladdin"

Thomas In Series

CBS-TV also is counting its five special 'I Love Lucy' one - hour shows next season as spectaculars They'll be in black - and-white.

Lowell Thomas will front seven other special CBS shows called "High Adventure." They'll deal with such subjects as cave exploring and mountain climbers adn filmed visits to places like Nepal and New Guinea.

Completing the CBS-TV list are six Art Linkletter holiday spectaculars, "Persons and Places" Linkletter will herd the cameras through the nation as they explore such things as Thanksgiving dinners and Christmas shopping.

TV Western Hero Blasts Earp For 'Rock 'n Roll'

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Six-shooters are blazing away on the TV range. Now that Hugh (Wyatt Earp) O'Brian has done rock 'n roll on television, Jim ("Gunsmoke") Arness blasts that he thinks such antics are "disillusioning."

Lumbering, 6' 6" Arness once was under personal contract to John Wayne, resembles him and admittedly patterns his career after the veteran screen hero. That doesn't include stepping out of character to sing rock 'n roll or calypso—or even endorsing kiddies' merchandise, Arness says.

"It may be fine for other actors, and I don't mean to condemn them, but it's not for me," Arness said heatedly on the set where he'e working in next season's CBS "Gunsmoke" series.

"If fans see you as a certain kind of guy, and if you suddenly come out and do something contary such as rock 'n roll, it shocks people," he said

"Producers may notice that this guy is versatile But the fans say 'What is Marshal Matt Dillon doing with rock 'n roll"

"Did you ever see Wayne or Gary Cooper doing rock n' roll"

Handsome Arness, an ex-laborer, carpenter and salesman before he began working as a movie actor in 1949, only hit the big money after becoming the star of "Gunsmoke." Although he has a wife and three children to support, he consistently turns down a small fortune in offers to appear on TV variety shows and to endorse commercial products.

Which Camp to Choose For the Handicapped?

By H. N. BUNDESEN M. D

Many people believe that a handicapped child should not be sent to a specialized summer camp if he can get along in a regular residential camp.

It is up to your doctor, of course, to determine whether the youngster is capable of standing the rigors of a regular camp session But if he is, let him take advantage of the chance to live and play with youngsters not troubled with his affliction. It will be good for him

Some day he will have to make this way in an adult world that seldom has time to stop to give him a helping hand. The quicker he can adjust to being with persons who do not share his handicap, the better off he will be..Segregation is of value just so long Then it, too, becomes a handicap

If a child needs constant or frequent treatment or is unable to accomplish independently the activities of daily living, he is, of course, not ready for a regular camp.

But if he does not need treatment, is able to care for himself, is socially alert and has learned basic game skills, he is most likely, ready for a summer with ordinary kids.

All too frequently, only quiet games and passive activities are considered proper for handicapped youngsters In most cases if they are given the opportunity handicapped kids will surprise you with their abilities in more active sports.

Topography and location of the camp also must be considered It it is too isolated or too rough or hilly, it might not do at all for such a youngster

Now I don't mean to say that specialized camps do not have their place They do of course and such a camp might be just the place for the handicapped youngster you may be thinking about.

In fact, camps specializing in aiding handicapped youngsters usually are considered a stepping stone toward a more normal camp situation. For those with severe handicaps they may be the only type of camp suitable.

U. S. Designer of Mayflower Really Had Monumental Task

QUINCY, Mass. (UP) — Naval architect William A. Baker found that his connection with the Mayflower II did not end with designing this replica of the Pilgrims' original Mayflower of 337 years ago.

He's been constantly on the go this year making personal appearances, filling speaking engagements, showing color slides of the vessel and so on as interest mounted with the tiny ship's voyage from England to Plymouth, Mass.

Baker, who lives in nearby Hingham and is a naval architect for the Bethlehem Steel Company's shipyard here, for years has followed a hobby of researching the origin and construction of early wooden ships. He received the St. Olav medal from Norway for his plans which made possible restoration of polar explorer Roald Amundsen's ship, Gjoa, a decade ago.

When some historically minded residents of the Boston area organized Plimouth (sic) Plantation, Inc., to reconstruct the original Pilgrim colony, it was decided a replica of the Mayflower was essential.

Baker arrived in Quincy in 1950 after working in the San Francisco yard of Bethlehem, and, because of his success with the Gjoa, he was asked to prepare plans for the Mayflower.

There was little to be found in the records about the original Mayflower's details of construction. Baker and his wife spent many months going through hundreds of books and pamphlets. They finally found a really useful item in an old shipbuilder's notebook covering the period from 1540 to 1610, approximately the time the Mayflower was built. The author, oddly enough, was named Mathew Baker.

Finally ready to go to work, Baker taught himself to use the drafting tools of ancient ship designers, mainly the compass and a straight-edge.

"Since the compass was used so extensively," he explained, "the wooden hulls of those early ships were all contour, or shape, just like a wineglass. It wouldn't have done any good to have used modern drawing methods as they would have destroyed completely the character of the hull."

Meanwhile, some people in Britain had the idea of building a Mayflower replica and sailing her to America as a good-will gesture, but they, too, found the designing problem immense. Then they heard about Baker's designs, and arrangements were made for them to be turned over to Stuart Upham of Brixham, Eng., who built the vessel.

Baker's final set of drawings required nearly 3,000 hours of work. After his first set of lines, he felt he could do a better job with the compass if he destroyed the plans and redrew them. He did the same with the second and third sets before finally approving his fourth submission to the builder. After the lines plan was complete, the structural and other plans were relatively easy.

Baker calls his baby "a good ship, able to sail anywhere under any conditions. It's amazing how much those early-day shipbuilders knew about design."

The new Mayflower's only concessions to the modern age are water tanks instead of barrels, an oil-burning range instead of a wood fireplace, radar screen, inflatable life rafts, radio, and electric lights driven by a small diesel generator and a bank of batteries.

Baker's greatest thrill occurred last April when he held the wheel for an hour during actual sea trials, "when the Mayflower II really came alive."

Litterbugs Are Warned to Obey; Face Penalties

With the tourist and picnic season underway Secretary of Highways Joseph J. Lawler reminds Pennsylvania motorists that it is unlawful to throw or permit to be thrown, from an automobile "any garbage, bottles, cans, rubbish, wire, glass or cardboard or wood cartons or boxes."

The anti-litter law, approved by Governor George M. Leader on April 20, 1956, carried a penalty of a $25 fine. Default of the fine means 10 days imprisonment.

The Department's roadside development unit reports that in spite of the law the Department has not noticed an appreciable decrease in the amount of litter along highways.

The Department urges motorists to abstain from littering State roads because the clutter is unsightly and a health menace and because it presents a costly maintenance problem.

The law holds the operator of a motor vehicle responsible for litter thrown from the car. It reads—

Depositing organic matter along roadsides is contrary to rules and regulations of the Department of Health. Enforcement of the rules, adopted in 1945, is handled by Department sanitarians as summary prosecutions and violators are subject to fines or imprisonment.

Crackdown on Gambling by Incoming Council

WHEELING, W. Va. (UP) — Sweeping changes in administrative procedures by the incoming Moundsville city council have been revealed by the Wheeling News Register.

In a Monday story the paper said it learned the new city government would undertake a campaign to rid the city of gambling operations soon after it takes office July 1.

In addition, the newspaper said, the non-partisan council under a new city manager form of government which is effective next Monday will levy the maximum tax on pinball machines. Since last Thursday, state police have raided three Marshall County establishments and confiscated slot machines at each place.

The News Register said Moundsville clubs and organizations are busy removing slot machines, closing horse race bookie operations and halting other gambling operations before the anticipated crackdown begins.

Army Reserve Units to March In Charleroi

Three local Army Reserve units from the Mon Valley Army Reserve Center in North Charleroi will participate in the Veterans' Memorial Week parade Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in Charleroi.

The three units are the 437th Civil Affairs — Military Government Company commanded by Lt. Col. Edward W. Bell, of Monongahela, Company E, 314th Infantry Regiment, 79th Infantry Division, commanded by Captain George H. Belsick, of Belle Vernon, and Battery A, 312th Field Artillery Battalion, 79th Infantry Division, commanded by Captain Francis R. Stutzmger, of Burgettstown.

Company E and Battery A are presently engaged in a two-week annual unit training program at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation near Harrisburg. Both units are scheduled to return to Charleroi Saturday.

The hydrogen bomb was advanced in 1954 from the experimental stage to the status of a usable weapon capable of destroying a big city.

Woman Insisted On Paying Bill

ERIE, Pa. (UP) — Mrs. Mae Gamble, who refused to be taken to a hospital for treatment of malnutrition until she had paid an undertaker $400 for her funeral arrangements, was reported in fair condition today.

The aged woman was found lying on the floor of her apartment Monday by a neighbor who investigated because she had not seen Mrs. Gamble for several days.

After the funeral director was paid and Mrs. Gamble taken to the hospital, police found $600 in cash in the woman's refrigerator and a bank book showing a balance of $1,804.67.

What Has the Scientest Learned About the Causes of Alcoholism?

(This is the second in a series of dispatches on the nation's fourth-ranking health problem — alcoholics. Today's dispatch reports what science has learned about the causes of alcoholism.)

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UP) — About 70 million Americans drink alcholic beverages. Some take a drink only two or three times a year. Others down a fifth of whiskey a day—or more.

Medical science knows, as a statistical fact, that about 7 per cent of all drinkers will wind up as alcholics. But it cannot now predict, with any degree of accuracy, who will be included in that 7 per cent.

The problems of preventing and treating alcoholism would be enormously simplified if science could identify a specific "cause" for this pervasive illness which now afflicts nearly five million Americans in all walks of life.

The search for a cause, or causes, has been a principal objective of the scattered and poorly-financed research which is being conducted on alcoholism. To date, this research has produced several conflicting theories — and very little firm knowledge.

Here's One Theory

Some scientists are convinced that people who become alcoholics are suffering from some kind of physiological disorder—a vitamin deficiency, a malfunction of the thyroid or other glands, or a defect in metabolism which causes alcohol to become, for them, an addictive poison.

Exponents of this theory have been unable to produce evidence convincing to a majority of doctors. The prevailing medical view is that the physical ailments, such as vitamin deficiency, which appear in advanced alcoholics, are the result rather than the cause of excessive drinking.

Other scientists go all the way to the other extreme and attempt to explain alcoholism solely in psychological terms. Compulsive drinking, they say, is the symptom of some "personality inadequacy." The alcoholic is trying to drown hidden feelings of anxiety, guilt or inferiority.

Unsupported By Research

The psychological-origin theory was dominant until fairly recently, when researchers began to shoot holes in it. They pointed to a large number of unquestionably neurotic people who drink, but never become alcoholics. They also found that many alcoholics are quite "normal" from a psychiatric viewpoint until they begin drinking excessively.

Now a majority of medical authorities seem to be coming around to the view that alcoholism is like fever—it can be symptomatic of a tremendous variety of causes. In any one individual, alcoholism may result from a physiological defect or a phychological disturbance—or both.

It is interesting to note that the organization of recovered alcoholics called Alcoholics Anonymous arrived at this conclusion years ago. Its definition of alcoholism has long been: "An obsession of the mind coupled with an allergy of the body."

One of the sharpest disputes concerns the role played by alcohol itself in causing alcoholism. This dispute has inevitably become involved in the continuing battle between wet and dry forces over local option prohibition.

Point Of Controversy

The National Temperance League and other groups seeking to outlaw alcoholic beverages contend that heavy and prolonged drinking is a primary cause of addiction to alcohol. They bolster this assertion with statistics showing a relationship between per capita alcohol consumption in each state and the number of alcoholics per 100,000 population. (The District of Columbua, for example, is tops in both categories.)
